HUGGS + KISSES
FOREVER

KimmiE,

Just think we have been Best Buddies now for almost 3 years. we have been through everything together + more. Remember how scared we were to begin our Freshman year here at Big NH? Now look at us we are mature Soph's. We used to be so intimidated by the upper classmen at lunch. Remember our First BEAL NH. party (How could I forget, G.K.) Butterflies all the way. Another Summer here to let our brains go to waste (if you know what I mean) It's mega partying from here on out ~~and~~! The Summer gang of 83 (mar, sue, Bill, Luke) never again? yeah Right. Same time next year. ^{also} This time next year we'll have a mobile to take us around to all those parties we plan on going to, just think your car or mine? J.R. + G.K. FOREVER. I'll never forget (NEVER) Suddenly last Summer is all over, we are onto bigger + better things this summer. you wont make the same mistake twice. the fun times we've had, can never be replaced. Always Remember that BABE, ^{ALWAYS} ~~FOREVER~~ = LOLA ^{LOLA} ~~LOLA~~

Kimmy! -
 Yea. I'm stoked

"STRIVING . . ."

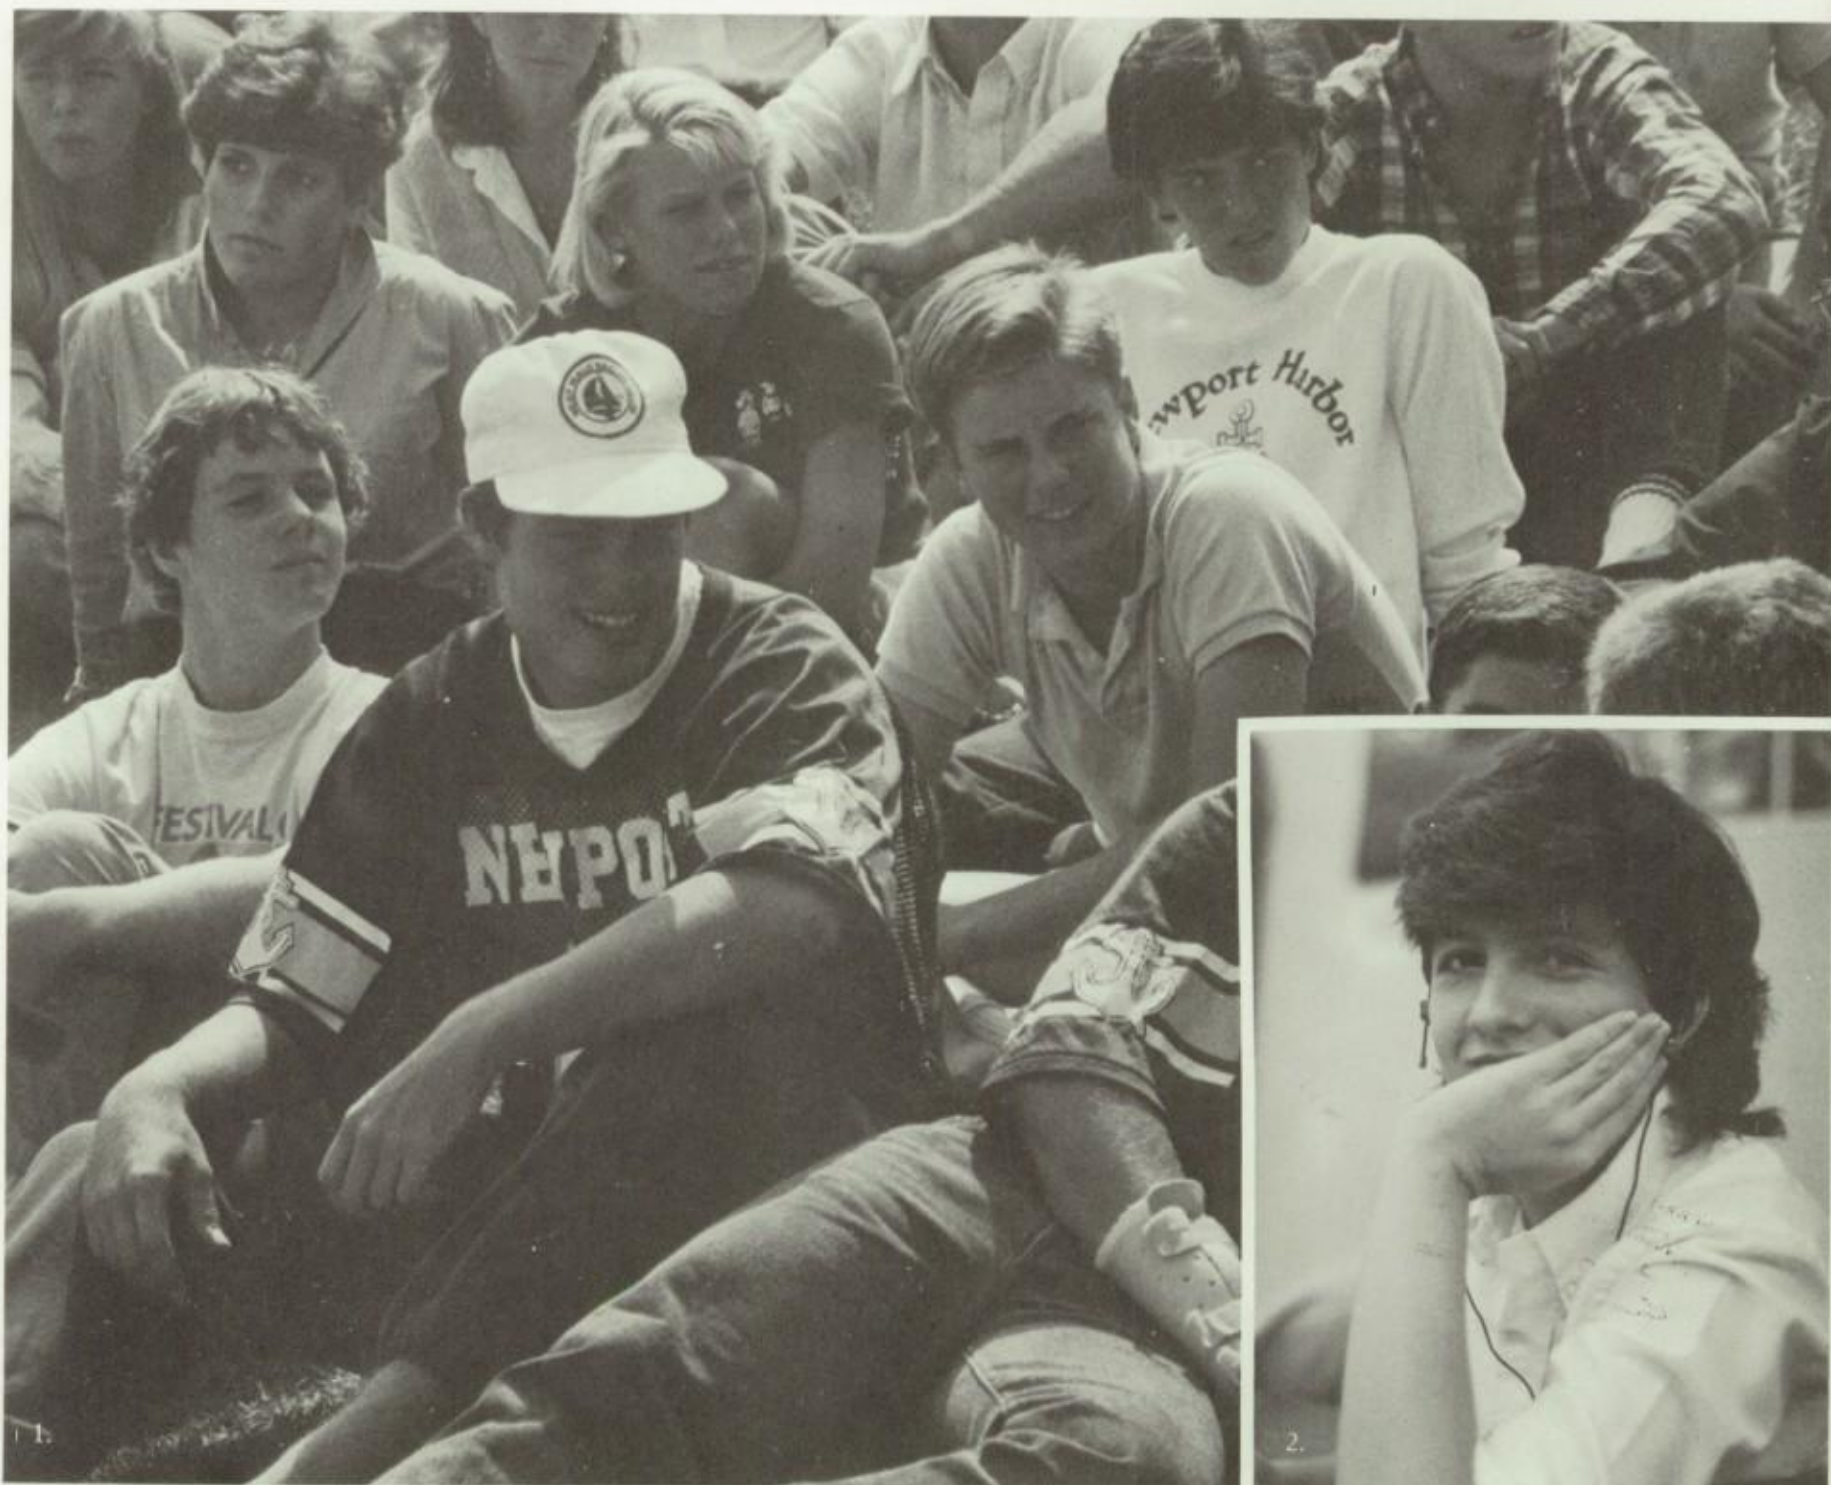

"The most important thing in the Olympic Games is not the winning but taking part. The essential thing in life is not conquering but fighting well."

This statement by Baron de Coubertin, founder of the modern Olympic Games, described the spirit involved in each Olympiad. It stresses the need for fair and just competition, while striving for the peak of athletic prowess, speed and strength. At Newport Harbor student athletes volunteer hours of practice and preparation for upcoming sports events. It is a grueling task to tone the muscles into perfection and coordinate agility and gracefulness of motion. The athletes at Newport Harbor have captured the sense of strength and pride in their athletic capabilities. As idealized by the creed of the modern Olympics "the most important thing . . . is the taking part . . ."

HOMECOMING COURT

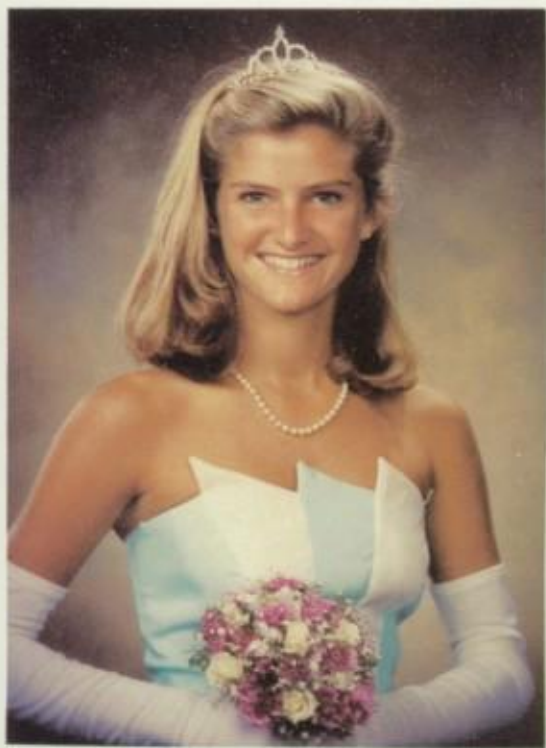

Candidates for this year's Homecoming Court were: Tiffani Whitaker, Duranne Collins, Megan Tingler, Linda DaSilva, Colleen Deemer, Lynn Murray.

During Harbor's Homecoming football battle with Estancia, a parade of classical cars circled the field with the princesses on glamorous display as they delivered the nominees to their improvised court on the field. As the girls strolled onto the grass, the Sailor Band softly played in the background in formal salute. The winning ballot determining the senior queen was delivered by a dazzling parachutist dressed in a black tuxedo who fell through the air and gracefully landed in the playing field with envelope in hand. As the ballot was opened, a hush of intense silence swept through the crowd. Suddenly the speaker proudly announced the winner:

Miss Colleen Deemer!!! Newport Harbor's 1983 Homecoming Queen.

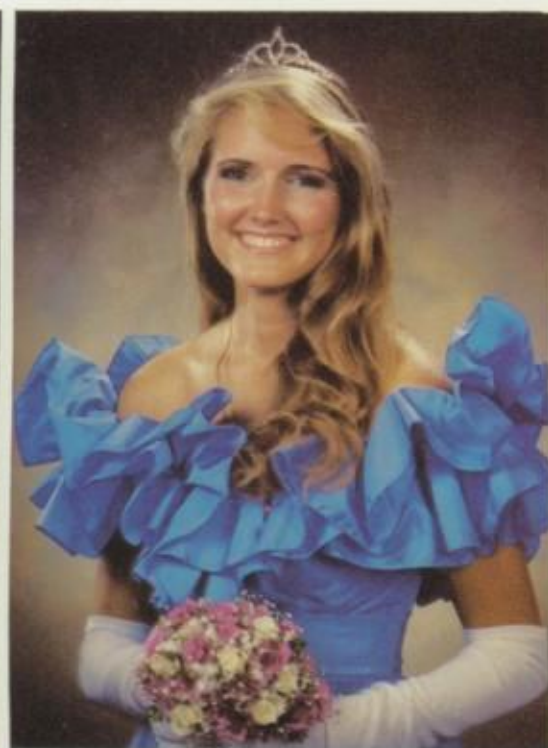

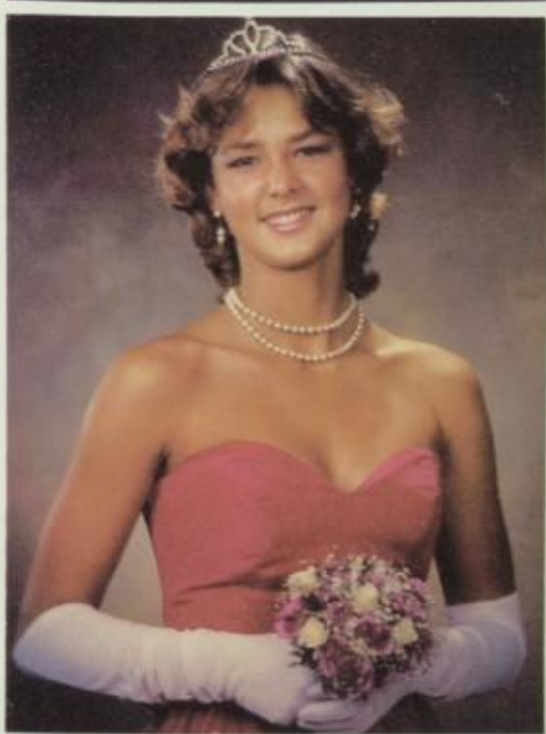

Junior Princess Megan Tingler

Senior Princess Linda DaSilva

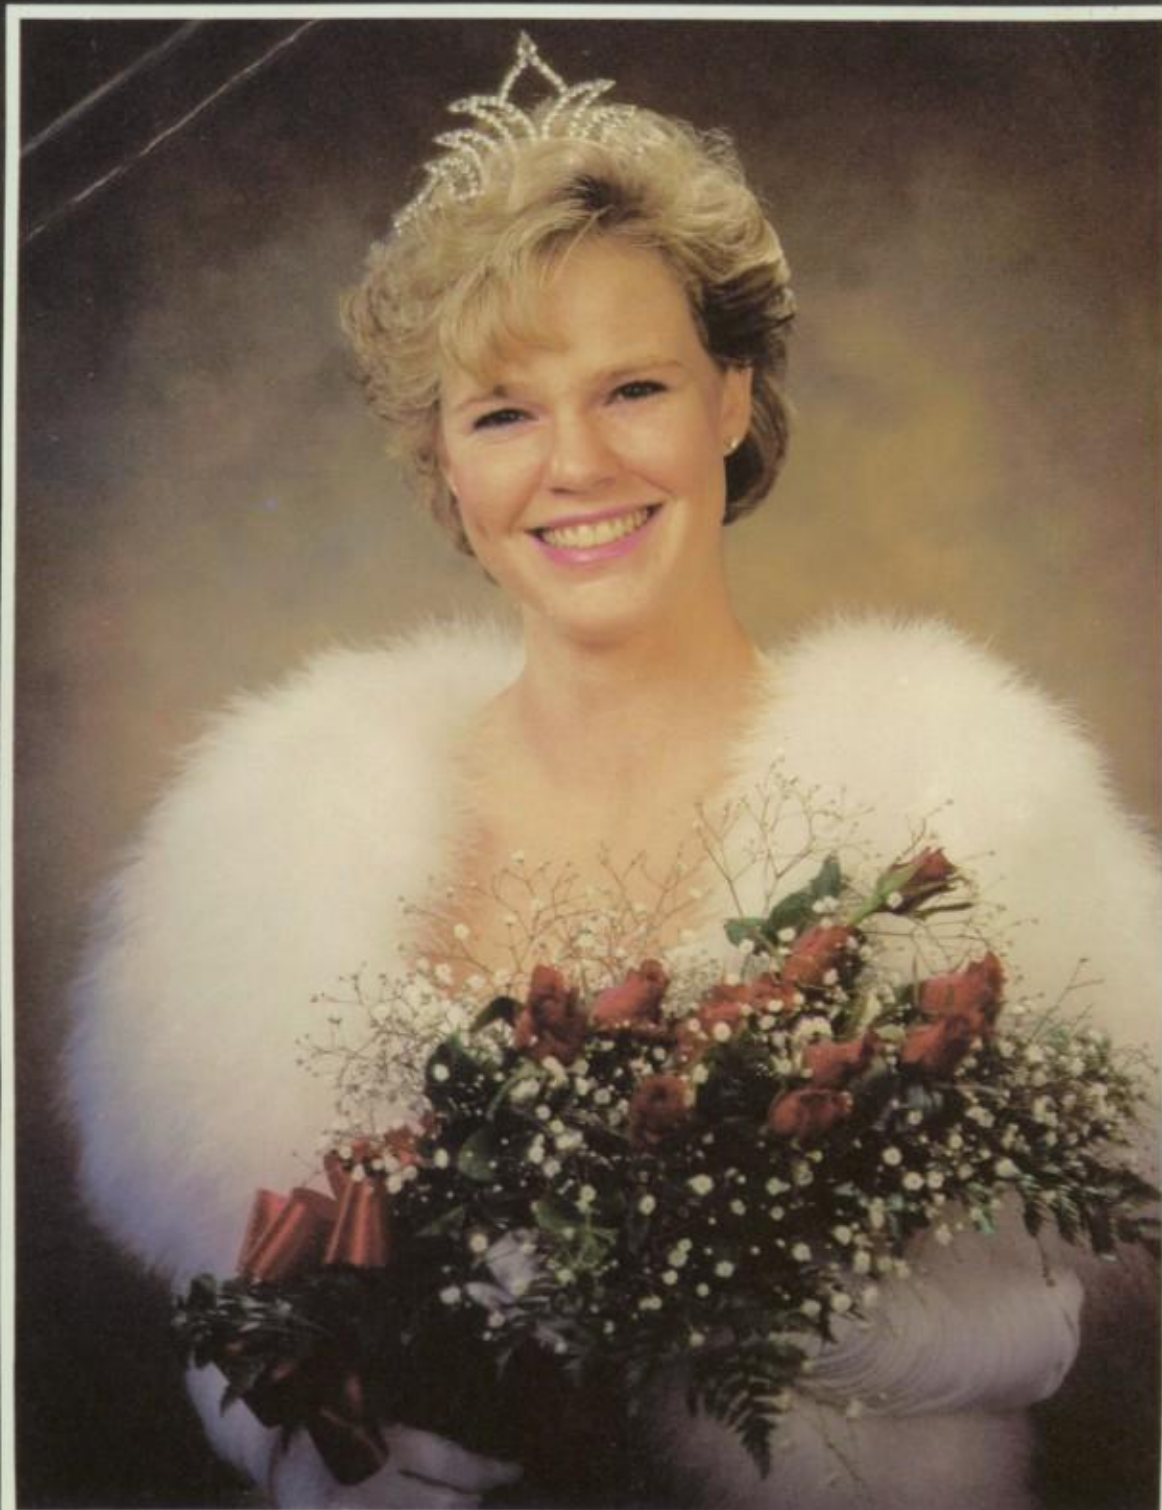

Senior Princess Lynn Murray

Sophomore Princess Doranne Collins

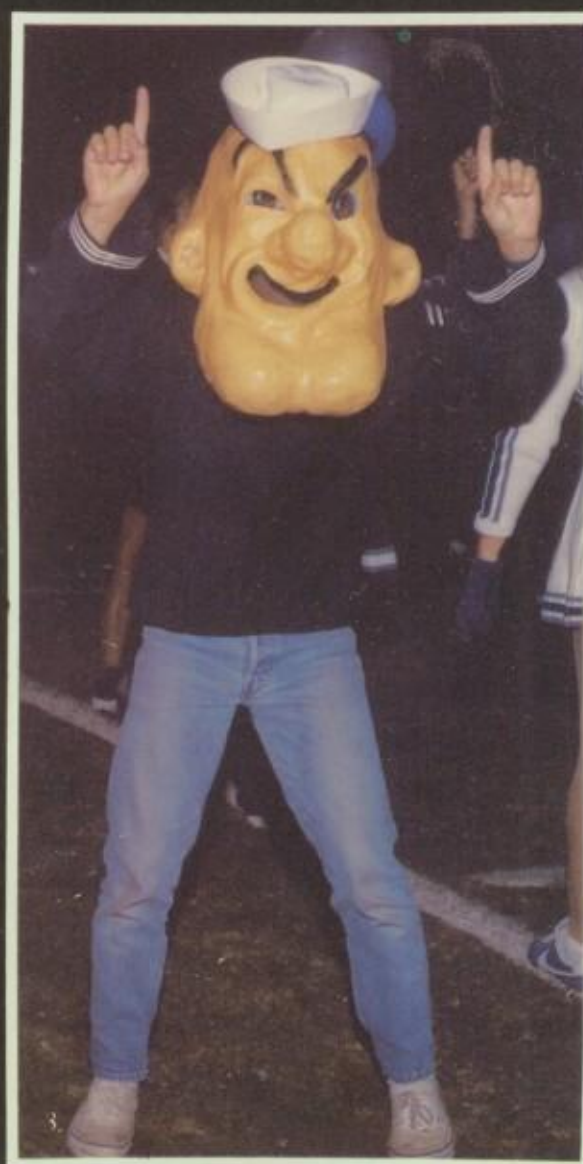

Freshman Princess Tiffani Whitaker

Homecoming Queen Colleen Deemer

HOMECOMING

An Evening of Pageantry . . .

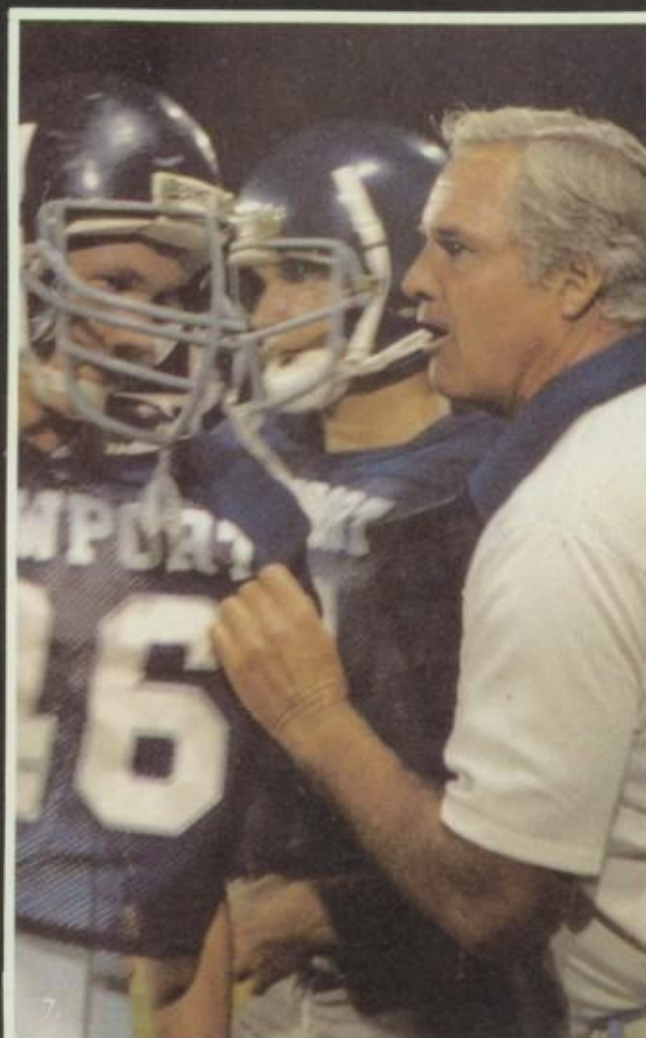

It was a grueling confrontation between Estancia's Eagles and the Newport Harbor Tars. Newport fans turned out to root and cheer their team to victory. Cheer and song leaders encouraged the crowd into yell rallies and then excited "8 claps." The Sailor Band paraded in pomp and pageantry, playing and saluting the sweet taste of victory. The poignant scent of triumph pervaded the cold night air. Newport Harbor's football team made a fast and clean score early in the evening and continued to relentlessly drill the Eagles into the ground for the remainder of the game. Final score: Newport Harbor — 52, Estancia — 0.

1. Tars dive through Estancia's territory.
2. An ominous warning for the Eagles.
3. Tommy Tar yearns for the #1 title.

GAME

4. Cheer and song leaders anticipate the coronation of 1983 Queen.
5. Chris Bartolic crowns her successor — Colleen Deemer.
6. Tyler Hinds and Pat Williams tear through victory signs.

OLYMPIC IDEALS

Sam, the Olympic Eagle

In accordance with tradition, every country may choose its' own mascot. Sam, the Olympic Eagle, is our nation's mascot for the twenty-third Olympic Games. Giving a striking appearance to our patriotic Uncle Sam, whose rigid grimace demands individual participation in governmental affairs, Sam is the nation's "feathered friend" whose bouyant personality seeks to inspire our country's athletes to golden victory. Symbolically, Sam stems from the internationally known bald eagle whose strength graphically reflects the ideals sited in the Olympic motto: "higher, stronger, faster."

Olympic Site Map

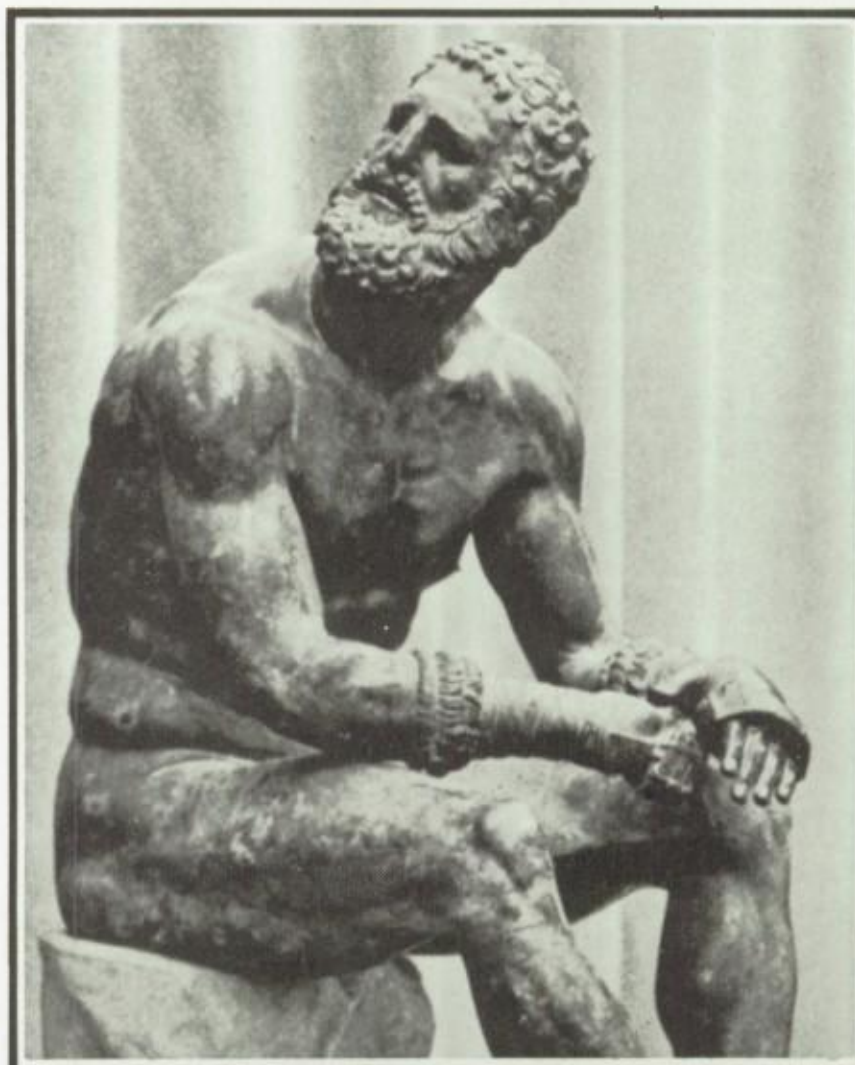

This summer, Southern California will be alive with excitement in anticipation of the XXIII Summer Olympic games. The events will be held all over Southern California. Consequently, the summer of 1984 will provide fans of all sports with something to look forward to, and to remember for years to come.

THE ANCIENT GAMES

The origin of the Olympic Games is shrouded in the mystery of the period when myth and legend were inextricably entangled with the beginnings of Hellenic history. One story, told by Pindar, traces the origin of the games back to that legendary time when Hercules, doing penance for his misdeeds, was given the unpleasant task of cleaning, in a single day, the stables in which Augeas, King of Elis, maintained herds. Hercules wheedled from the King the promise of one tenth of his coveted herds should he be successful in his task, and promptly turned the rivers Alpheus and Peneus from their courses to flow through the stables. Augeas refused to pay Hercules his reward and with ready justice, Hercules slew Augeas, adopted his herds, and instituted the Olympic games in celebration.

For nearly twelve hundred years, despite threats of invasion and the interminable squabbles that culminated in the Peloponnesian War and finally the loss of Greek independence, the Olympic games were held every four years without interruption. At their height, the games were the embodiment of all that made Greece the mistress of the Mediterranean. The simple religious festival in which they had their beginnings developed into a seven-day carnival of culture and athletic prowess with all the color and pageantry of those classic days.

THE MODERN GAMES

Opening ceremonies

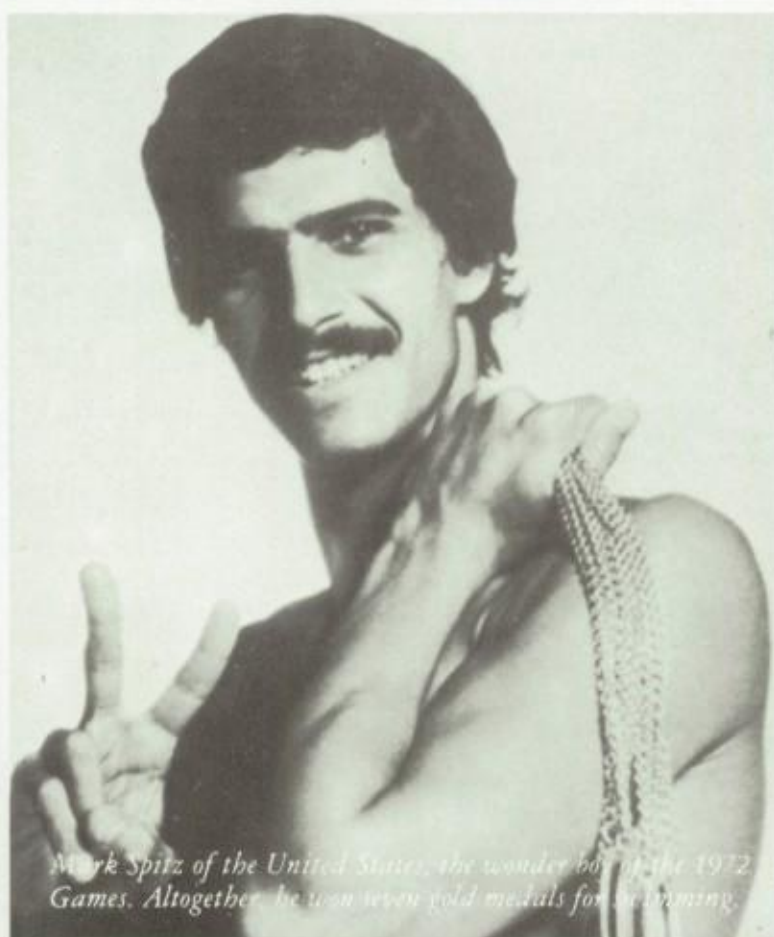

Baron de Coubertin

Young Pierre de Coubertin was convinced that the way to a better individual humanity lay along the rugged pathway of exposure to competitive modern life. His ambition was to get the youth of the world together, preferably in the friendly competition of sport. The Baron was disturbed by an international trend toward commercialism in sports, and he gradually began to dream of a cure — a revival of the ancient Greek Olympic Games.

In 1893, the Baron invited sportsmen from all over the world to join l'Union des Sports Athletiques in an international athletic congress at Sorbonne. Few countries responded favorably at first to Baron de Coubertin's invitation, and he feared the international congress might be a fiasco. But he kept prodding and pleading, and when the congress opened on June 16, 1894, delegates were present from the United States, England, Sweden, Spain, Italy, Belgium, Russia, Greece, and France. Stressing the development of youth fitness and the development of international understanding, the Baron convinced even the most skeptical delegates. Unanimously, the international congress voted to revive the Olympic Games. Swayed by history and the arguments of the Greek delegation, the congress chose Athens as the site of the first modern Olympic Game to be held in the year 1896.

Mark Spitz of the United States, the wonder boy of the 1972 Games. Altogether, he won seven gold medals for swimming.

Jim Thorpe, the All-American football player. He was the shining star of the 1913 Games at Stockholm.

Babe Didrikson, the All-American girl basketball player. She took gold medals in shotput, baseball throw, javelin throw, broad jump, high jump, and the 80-meter hurdles.

Jessie Owens sails through the air to win the broad jump in 1936. He also won the 100 and 200 meter relay dashes.

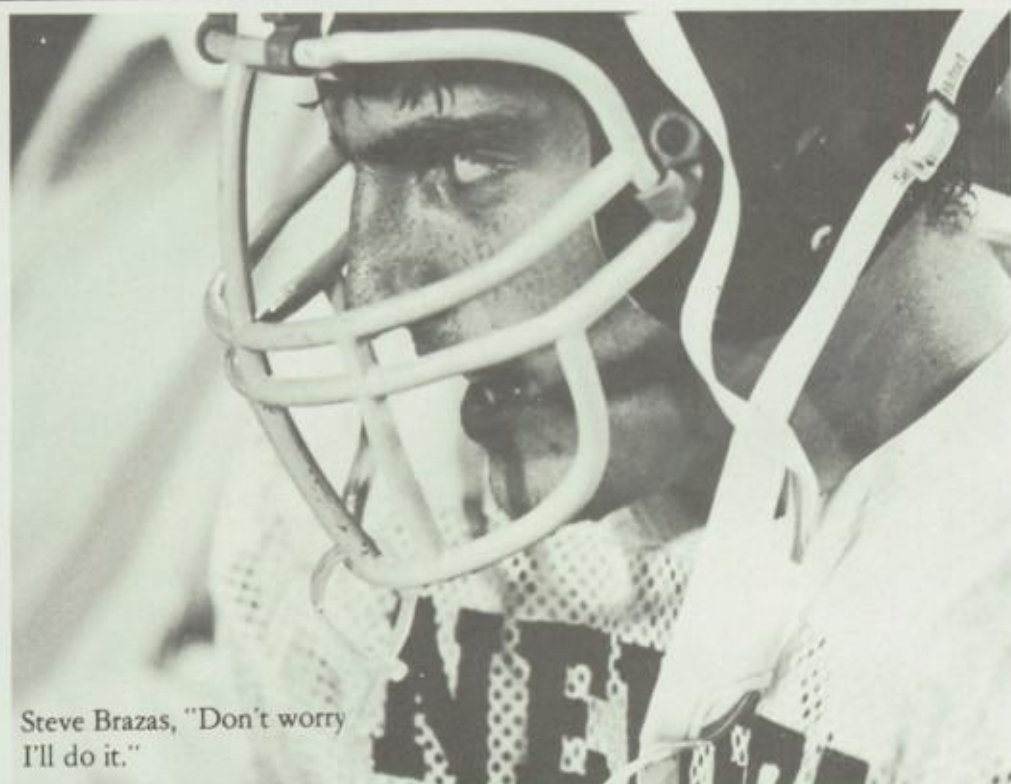

Vinnie Richards, United States tennis singles champion, 1924.

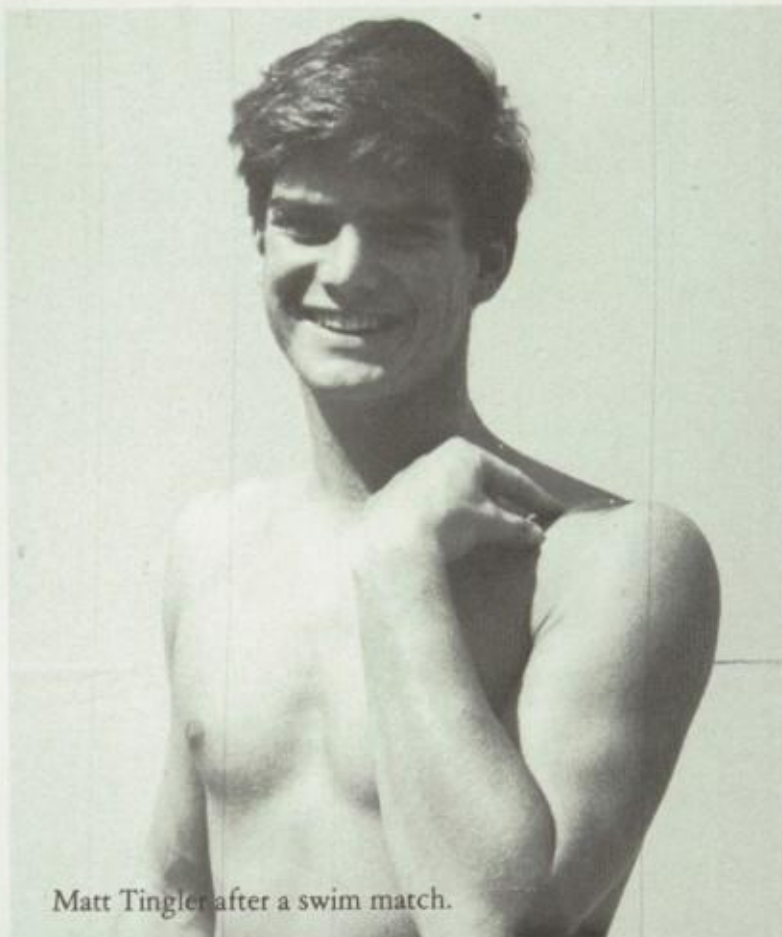

Wilma Rudolph, United States, sprint champion, 1960.

1932

William May Garland, a native of Maine who made his fortune in West Coast real estate at the turn of the century became president of the California Chamber of Commerce. Despite the economic depression that had swept across the country and the lack of money in many nations to send athletes to the far coast of America, William Garland stubbornly insisted on the games taking place in Los Angeles and became head of the Los Angeles Olympic Organizing Committee. The state voted towards a million dollars to help with expenses and Los Angeles floated a 1.5 million city bond. When the participating athletes from 37 nations reached the coast they were greeted by excellent facilities. They included the Los Angeles Coliseum, which was enlarged and renamed Olympic Stadium, with seating for over 100,000 spectators and a revolutionary new track made of crushed peat; an auditorium with 10,000 spectator seats for boxing and wrestling events; a swimming arena, with a capacity of 12,000; tennis courts; a rifle range; a bowling green; and a rowing course with seating for 17,000 viewers. The biggest provision was the Olympic Village, which had 550 cottages and other buildings laid out spaciouly overlooking the Pacific Ocean. Mildred Didrickson, an 18-year-old from Beaumont, Texas, became known as "Babe," because of her hitting style that resembled that of Babe Ruth. 'Babe' was limited in the Los Angeles Olympics games to three track and field events. In the javelin throw and the 80-meter hurdles, she took the gold medals. Didrickson broke records in three of the events she participated in. Lillian Copeland, in the discus throw, Mary Careu, Evelyn Fortsch, Annette Rogers and Wilhelmina Von Bremen the 400-meter relay team, won gold medals for the United States. In the men's 1932 Olympics, Lekan-tan of Finland made a scrape of a victory over our Ralph Hill in the 5000 meter run. A question of blocking was involved, and as a sign of sportsmanship Finland's gold medalist tried to pull our silver medalist, Ralph Hill, up to the victory stand alongside of him. Chunky Tolan won the 100-meters. Bill Carr of Pennsylvania got the gold in the 400-meter run. Thomas Hampson pulled in front of Canada's Wilson in the 800-meter to claim the gold. Frank Wykoff made a world record in the 400-meter relay. Two men, Cornelius Johnson and Robert Van Ordely of the United States, participated in a 4-way tie. In the long jump, U.S. jumpers Edward Gordon and Charles Lambert Redd took the gold and silver medals home. The Americans win the discus throw. John Anderson, Henri Jean Laborde, gold and silver. 80,000 watched William Miller of the U.S. get the gold in close competition with Japan's Shuhei Nishida. The American man to take a first in swimming was Clarence Buster Crabbe, who set a record in the 400-meter freestyle. American women won four of the swimming events. The United States Diving team made a clean sweep. Dorthy Poynton won the gold medal in the high dive. The United States came in third in water polo. Hungary placed first. The United States won the Bantam weight wrestling (Robert Pearce), welterweight (Jack Van Bebber) and the light heavy weight (Peter Mehringer) golds. For the first time, in 1932, the United States got a fencing medal. In rowing we won the double sculls, coxed pairs, and fours. Star class yachting was a new event in 1932, which the United States won. We also won the 8-meter yachting. In the 1932 Olympics, the United States won 44 Gold medals, 36 Silver and 30 Bronze medals. In second place, Italy, won 12 Gold, 12 silver and 12 Bronze. France came in third.

The XIV Winter Olympics in Sarajevo, Yugoslavia.

Tamara McKinney taking a "quick" run.

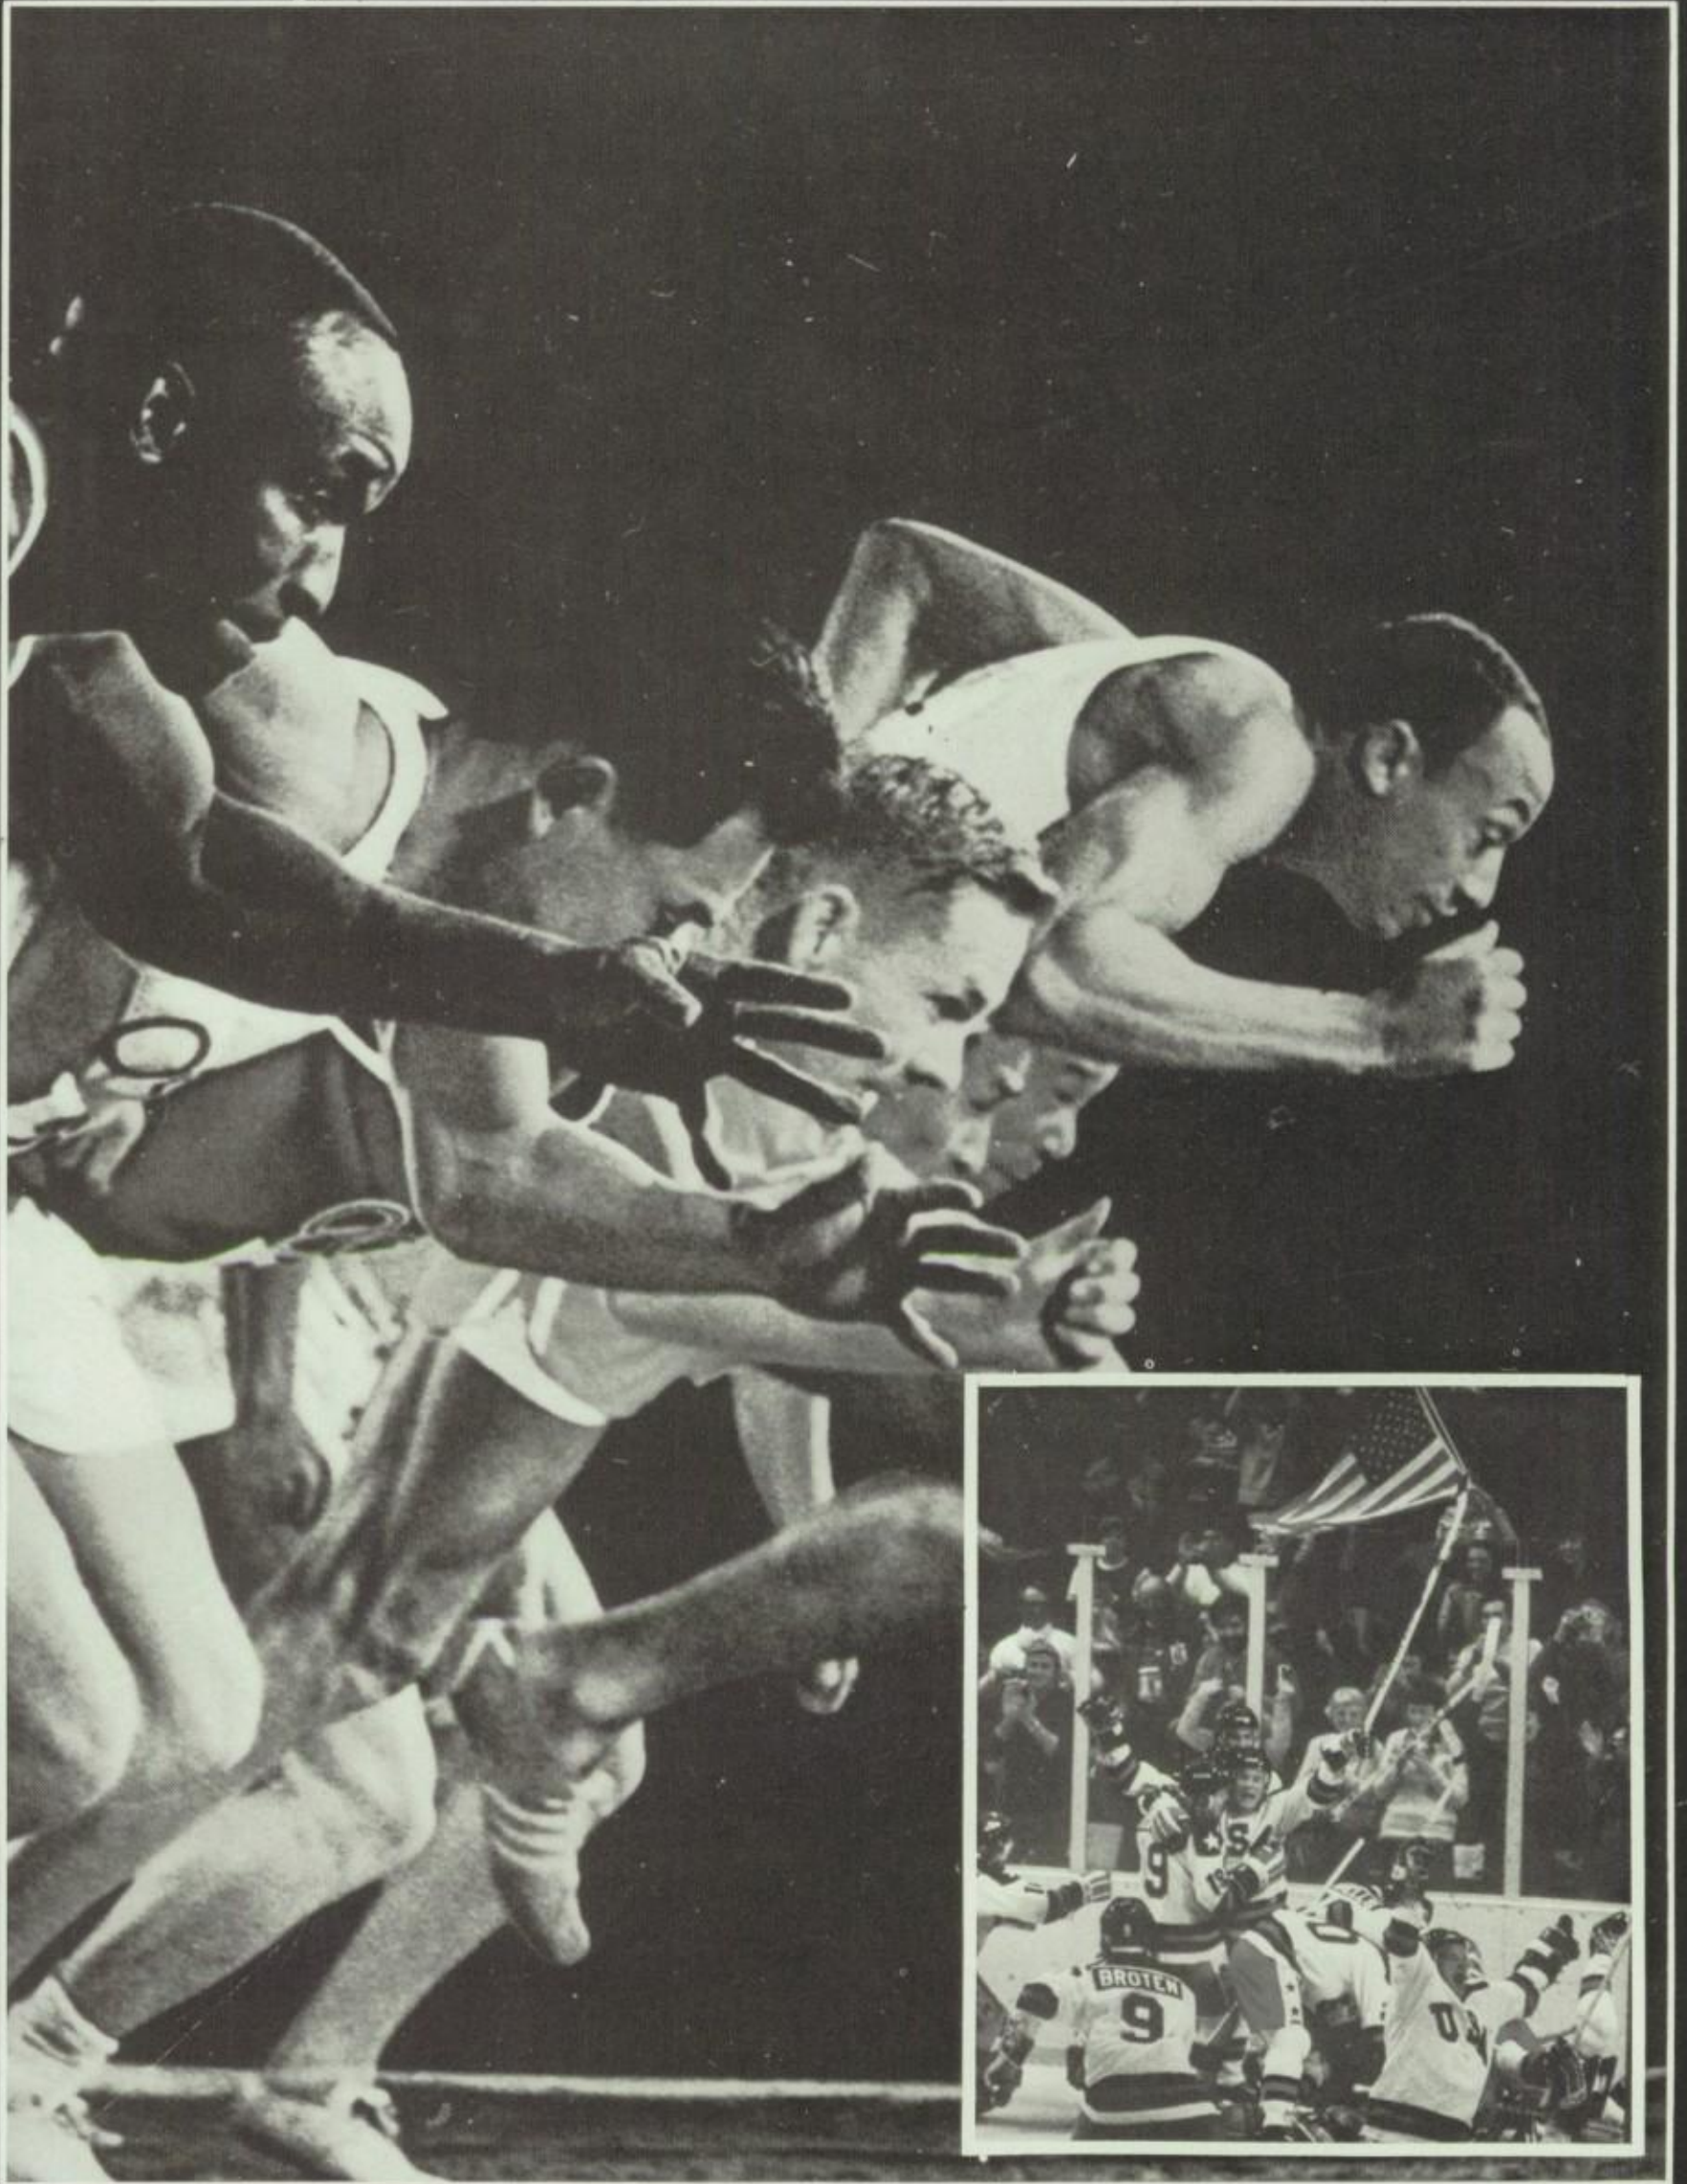

Peter and Kitty Carruthers clowning around.

This year, the XIV Winter Olympics were held in the small mountain town of Sarajevo, Yugoslavia. Sarajevo, though perhaps unknown to most Americans, is famous for its part in being the scene for the assassination of The Archduke Franz Ferdinand, heir to the Austro-Hungarian empire. It is this violent incident of 1914 that put Europe on the road to World War I.

Now, however, this town is peaceful and has the idyllic setting for the competition in winter sports. Here were located all the courses necessary to put on successful ski, luge, and bobsled runs. Also, there were the new 70 and 90 meter jumps on Mount Ingman, and a 15-km cross-country course. On Mount Bjelasnica, usually used as a weather station, is where the downhill, slalom, and giant slalom races were held, their starting point the inside of a newly constructed restaurant.

Despite weather problems — beginning with lack of snow and ending with too much snow and high winds — the XIV Winter Olympics enjoyed a smooth run. Opening ceremonies were performed in the just completed Zetra complex where young Yugoslavians formed intricate and colorful shapes while dancing complex native dances. After the ceremonies, the first events, skating, began in a new indoor skating arena. Downhill and both the slalom and giant slalom skiing followed after frequent delays. At the same time as the skiing the luge and bobsled runs were completed.

Even though we did not sweep these XIV Winter Olympics of its medals, we did leave a good sized dent and showed that we were indeed excelling, at last, in winter sports. Among all of our superb athletes, a few deserve special mention. Bill Johnson, a dark horse from Southern California took a gold in the men's downhill skiing, while Phil and Steve Mahre took a gold and silver on the men's giant slalom. Scott Hamilton from Colorado received a gold medal for men's figure skating. In women's events, Rosalyn Sumners clinched the silver for her excellent performance in women's figure skating and Tamara McKinney tried her best, but did not get a medal.

HERE WE GO AGAIN!

Even after four years, it comes back in a sweep. All it takes is one glance of a hockey shirt with U.S.A. planted on the front, and suddenly the scene re-erupts in the mind: sticks waved liked flags, teammates hugging, a crowd in sweet tears. Odd for a summer-time nation that the Winter Olympics provided such a memorable moment in sports, so memorable that half of us still swear that we beat the Russians, not the Fins, in the finals. But winter plays tricks with the senses. If we didn't know better, it would appear that those people are actually traveling on their sides in a bobsled at 75 m.p.h., and sailing off a 90-meter platform on skis, poised in the air like flying hinges, and plunging furiously down a mountain, making erratic Zs among poles stuck in the snow.

Within hours of the opening ceremonies, one will be saying such words as "biathlon" again, and talking of Nordic skiing and the luge. A foreign languages for Americans, who in a sense return to the Old World on these occasions, or a dream version of that world, to European movie kingdoms where athletes really do come from Liechtenstein. For 1984: Sarajevo. (Henceforth no schoolchild will be stumped on that World War I question.) Not our neck of the woods exactly. Yet Americans will be neither out of place nor outclassed this year, even if we will not see Eric Heiden wearing his five gold medals like a Titan's necklace, or pumping his arms in the golden suit that appeared welded to his body. Not that his outfit was wilder than anyone else's in this ice capade goggle-eyed skiers in interplanetary helmets, figure skaters sprayed with sequins spinning in electric blues, the brash colors seeming to make a protest against the frozen season.

Which may account for a basic appeal of these sports: their headlong assault on the weather. Or maybe it is the controlled craziness of the events. On surfaces difficult enough to walk on upright do these people race, leap, whirl, swerve, and then add an extra un-natural measure of defiance by going airborne. Fanatics. Only a spill proves them mortal. So reckless in their attitude that, watching them, one barely believes in the danger. Then someone's momentum is shattered, and a kid lies piled up in his skis like a broken bird. Silence replaces wonder.

Or then again, it may be the silence that holds us in the first place, and not the speed. Skaters whoosing slightly, skis barely cracking the snow's shell. Take away the crowds from these Olympics, and there would be very little to hear but your own heart racing. Until the closing ceremonies, when nations who first entered the stadium as if parading before the galaxy, block by formal block, break ranks, and the competitors, chanting raucously off-key, embrace one another in the most disorderly conduct. Pure mush, of course. Clichés down the line. So why are you smiling?

TOMA

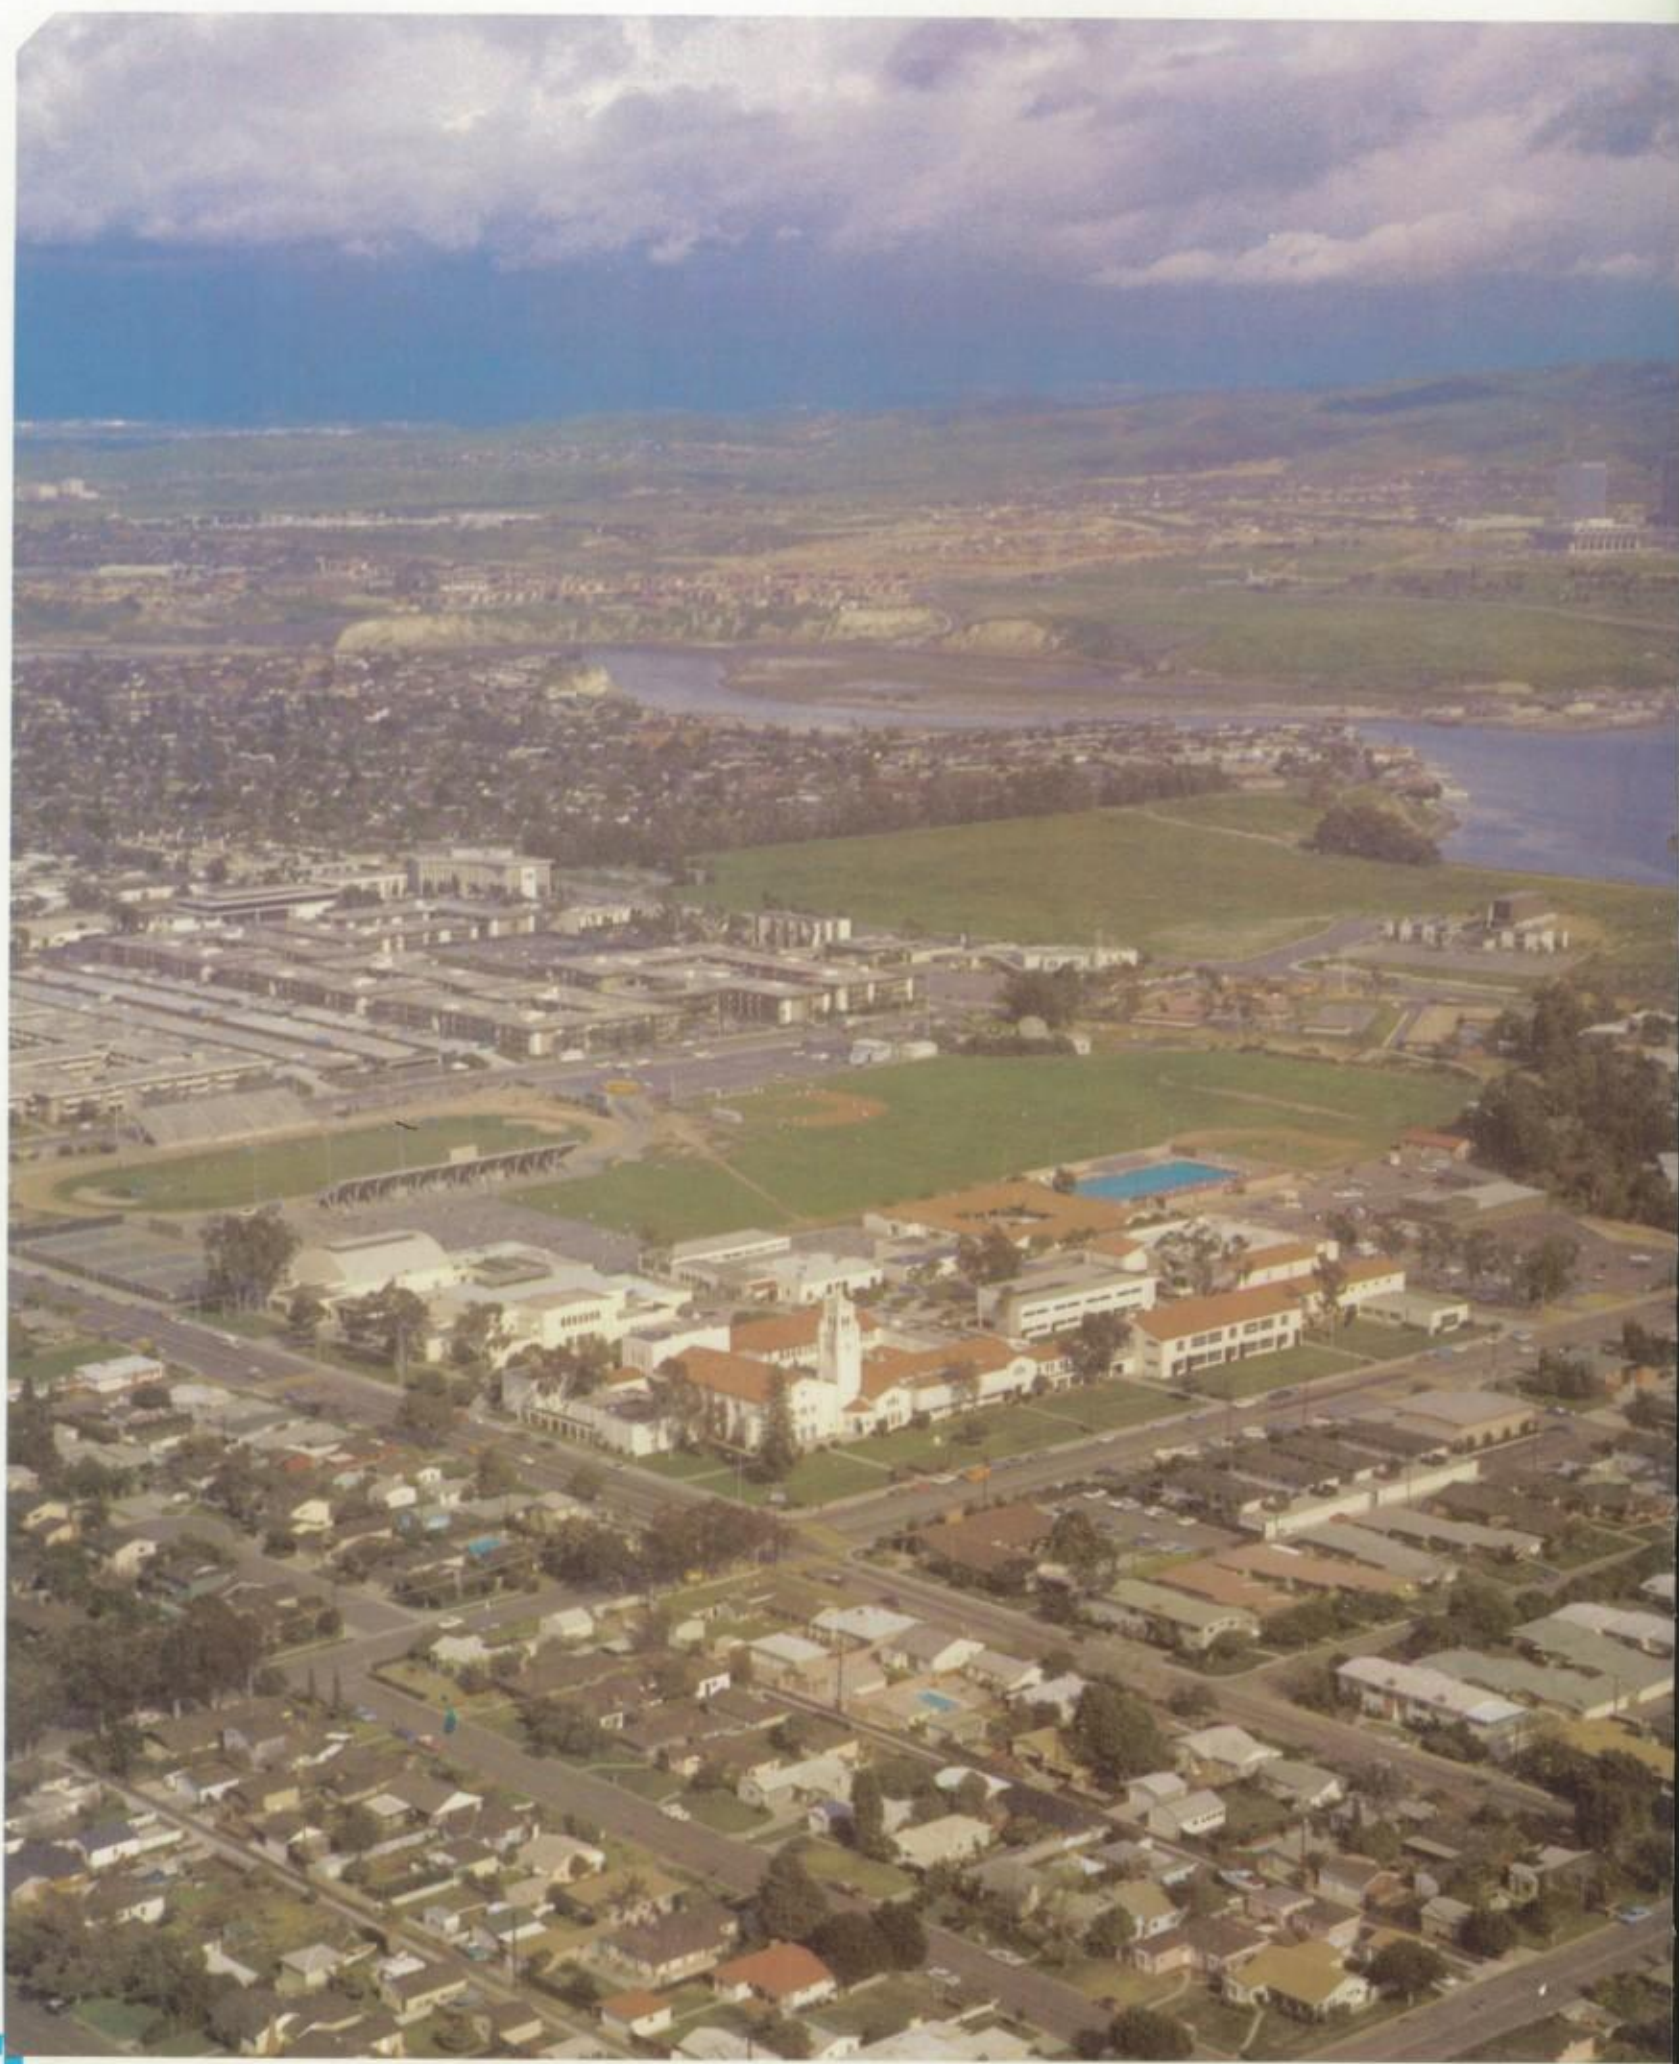

On March 6, 1984, I crammed into the Boys' Gym where Thousands of fellow students were jammed onto the floor below me, packing the bleachers to my right and left, and struggling for space to sit in the balcony above. Silence echoed through the gym on this macabre occasion. Three of my contemporaries had just been carried out of the stands as if they were sacks of grain — fainting from this encounter. Down in front of me there was only one man, standing calmly, relating nauseous stories that seeped into my soul and found expression in the shape of droplets of tears along my cheek. The man's name was David Toma, an ex New Jersey cop, and his stories were true and factual accounts of drug and alcohol abusers. He came to Newport Harbor to lecture and enlighten the students to the effects of drugs and alcohol — specifically on teenage users. His words struck home, and traumatized his audience. Mr. Toma dropped a ticking bomb, ready for detonation, into our student body. His accounts of drug users and pushers were horrifying. One day the user would be grand, feeling fine and getting high; the following day the user would be either dead or locked behind cold, steel bars, so incoherent that he would senselessly pull his eyeballs from their sockets in a fit of drug-inspired madness. There were stories about the students who have been users since the third grade — some since three years of age, when their mothers started them on their habit. There was a true account related about teenagers who, having a good time, drinking a few beers, decided to go for a drive. With eleven kids jammed into one vehicle, the drunken driver played chicken with a locomotive, and nine out of the eleven kids were decapitated. Mr. Toma explained that these were the cut and dried, bare-bone effects of drugs and alcohol on the user. Drugs and alcohol are poisons which give a sensation of euphoria. But, to introduce these poisons into the system is to toy with death and lasting side-effects. As a whole, the student body crawled out of the gym, stunned, horrified, and bleakly confronting a frightening reality.

THE CLASS OF 1984

Mr. Johnson assists some students with their projects.

It takes talented hands to make those pots . . .

Mr. Johnson gets his laugh of the day.

Mr. Moehler looking over the progress.

For all those creative people hiding in the halls of Newport Harbor there is the art department, where students can develop their talents in a variety of courses including ceramics, art, and printmaking. Students are encouraged to experiment with different art forms and mediums.

Ms. Sharon East explaining to Keri Hobbs how to set up a typing problem.

The Business Department at Newport Harbor High School consists of five teachers, and offers fifteen different courses of instruction. Department head, Fred Peterson, teaches four levels of Accounting, Business and Consumer Law, Recordkeeping, and typing. Sharon East teaches four levels of typing, Office Training, Business Office Occupation, and monitors the Office Assistant Program. Joe Fox and Charles Douglas both teach beginning typing classes, and Mimi Birch teaches Work Experience Education.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

Mr. Fred Peterson shows Heather Hoffman how to "balance a ledger" in accounting class.

Typing students "at work" while Ms. East observes their efforts.

Lindsay Alstrom lets her fingers do the walking.

ENGLISH

Mr. Ulander teaches about I-Thou vs. I-It.

Mr. (Uncle) Wakeman smiles his biggest grin for the camera.

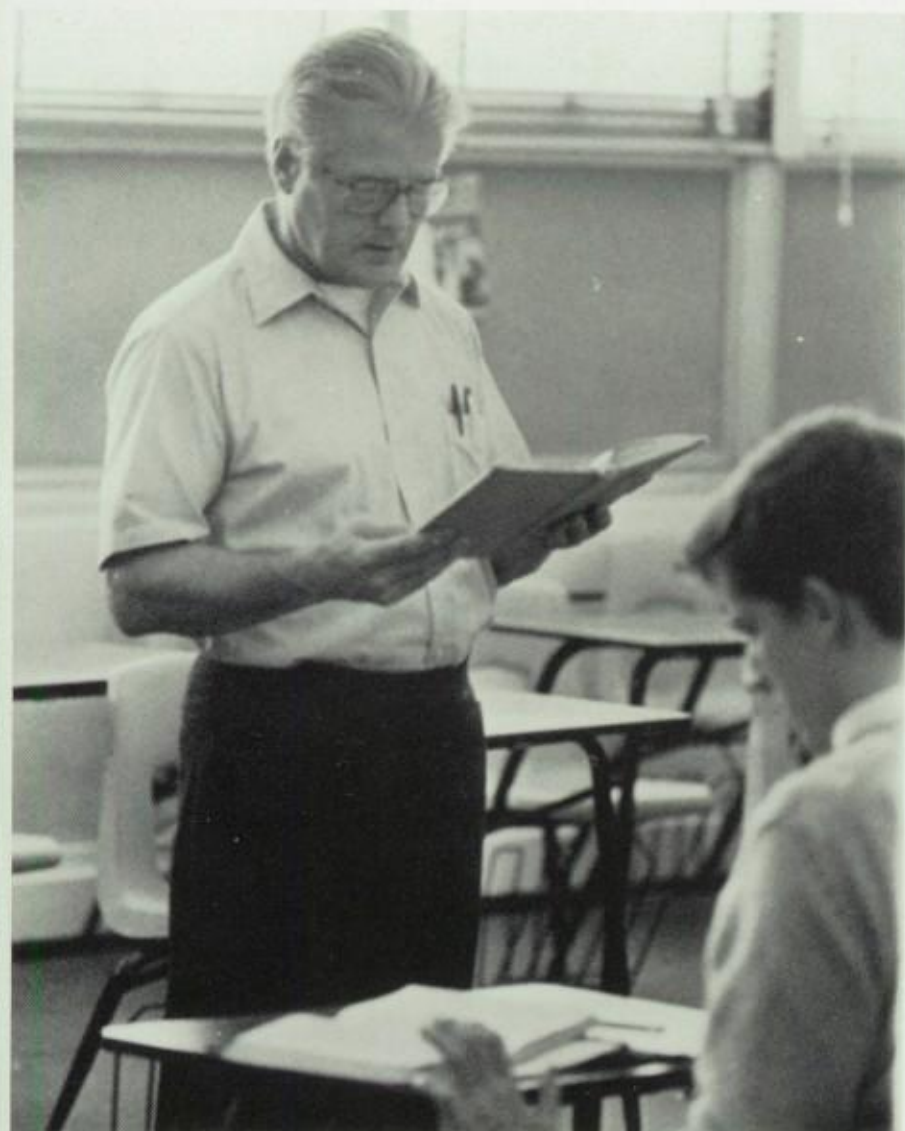

English!!! A word that strikes fear in the heart of freshmen and seniors alike. How can anyone forget their freshman year with Mrs. Cunningham and her "kitty-kitty gum-gum?" Or how about those lucky souls who had Mr. Kuhta? By now, they've probably seen every poster ever published in Surf magazine. Fortunately, Mr. Tagami was here in your sophomore year to help make English less of a dirty word. But Mrs. Orbach then showed up with a "decade" of Thoreau. And right when you thought that everything was downhill, up jumped Mr. Ulander with his "existentialism" and Notre Dame football scores. But thanks to all their help, we can now at least communicate half-way decently.

Mr. Tagami Department head teaching the fundamentals of essay writing.

Mr. Shira teaches German to his advanced third year class.

Mrs. Porter takes her class out to bask in the sunlight on a warm day.

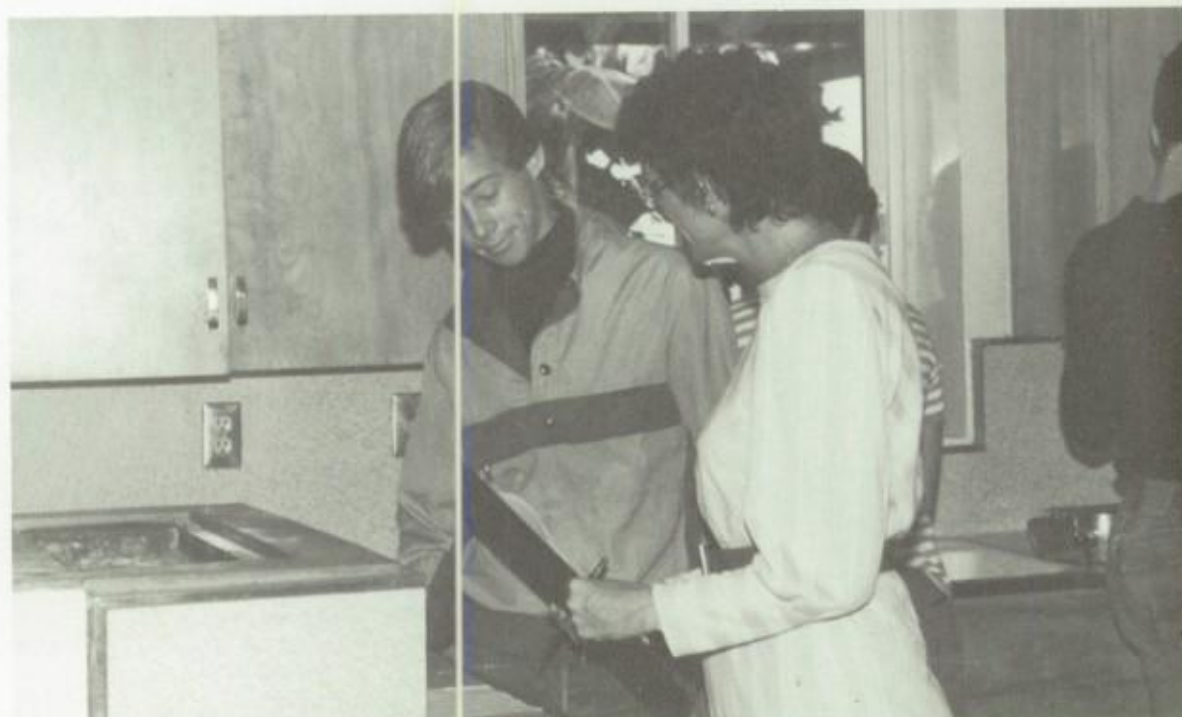

Mrs. Hodges helps a A.P. student with a difficult assignment.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

Languages such as Spanish, Latin, French, German and newcomer Chinese are taught by Newport's language department. As well as the standard teaching techniques, Newport's language department uses a language lab to give the students a better understanding of language. Through the teachings of this department, students are able to experience the languages of many different peoples.

HOME ECONOMICS

Steve Brownell & Mrs. Block: "My casserole actually got an 'A'?"

Jason Olson, Susie Pyle & Sean Parkman: "Oh c'mon Sue, I know this is right!"

Gina Romano: "Smile and say, Cheese!"

How come we're cleaning & they're eating?

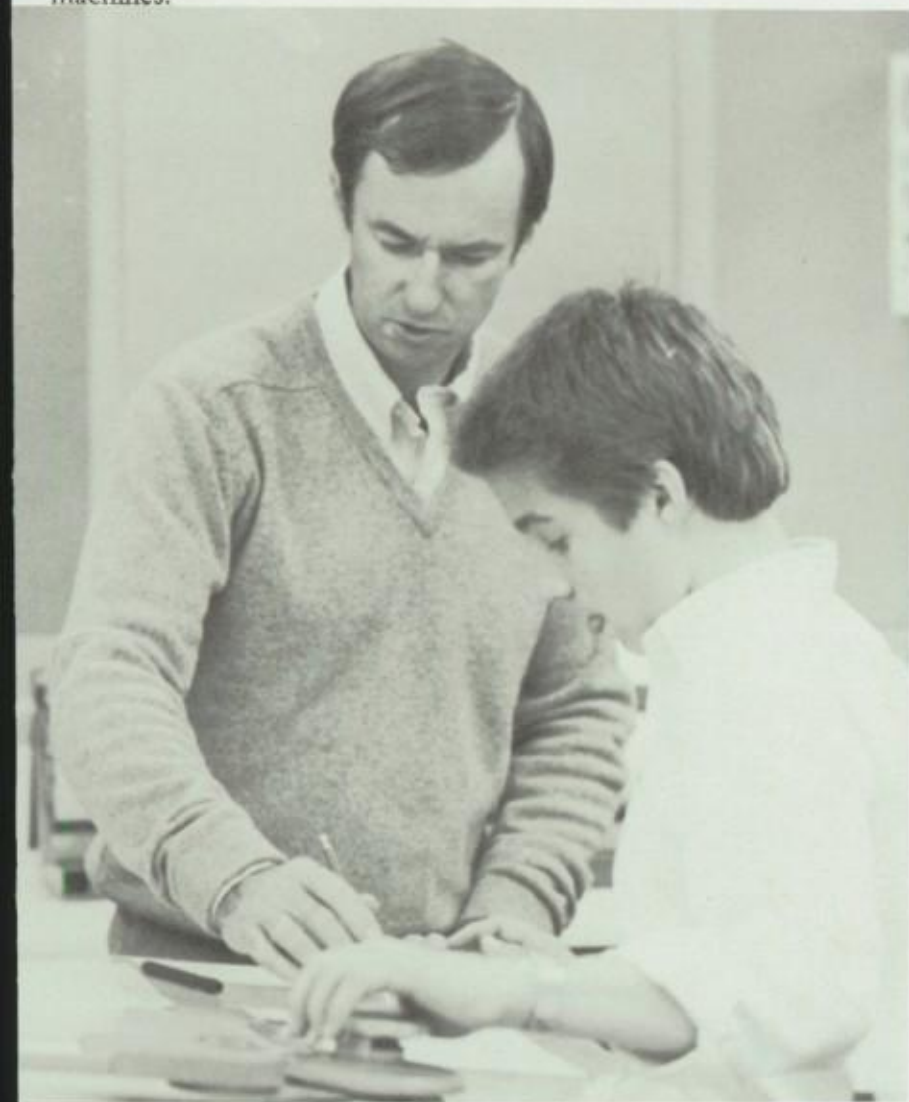

The Home Economics courses provided at Newport Harbor are designed with hopes of making young adults capable of surviving in the real world. With the basic skills taught by Mrs. Barbara Block and Mrs. Wanda Olsen, the big step could become considerably less ominous. The courses within the Home Economics Department include: Foods, Clothing, and Exploring Childhood.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Drafting teacher Mr. McLaughlin shows a student how to use drafting machines.

Mr. Vaughan helps students with a speaker in power mechanics.

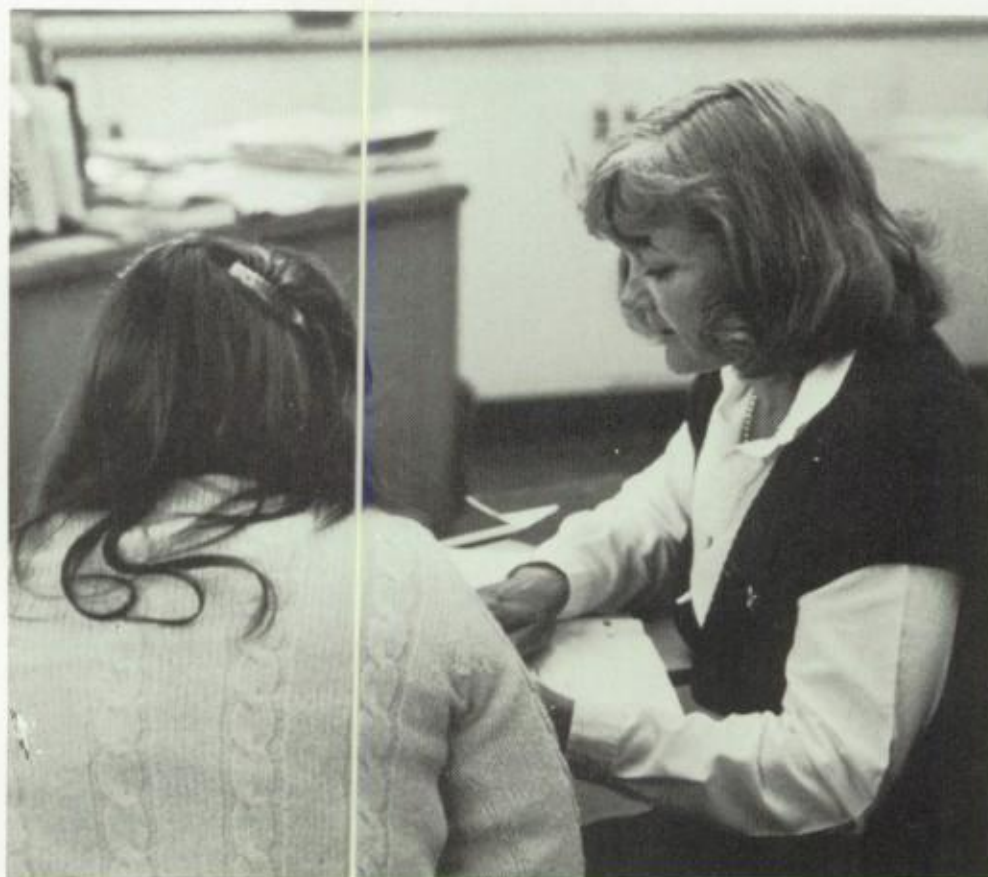

Mr. Vanderlan, photography teacher poses for a student.

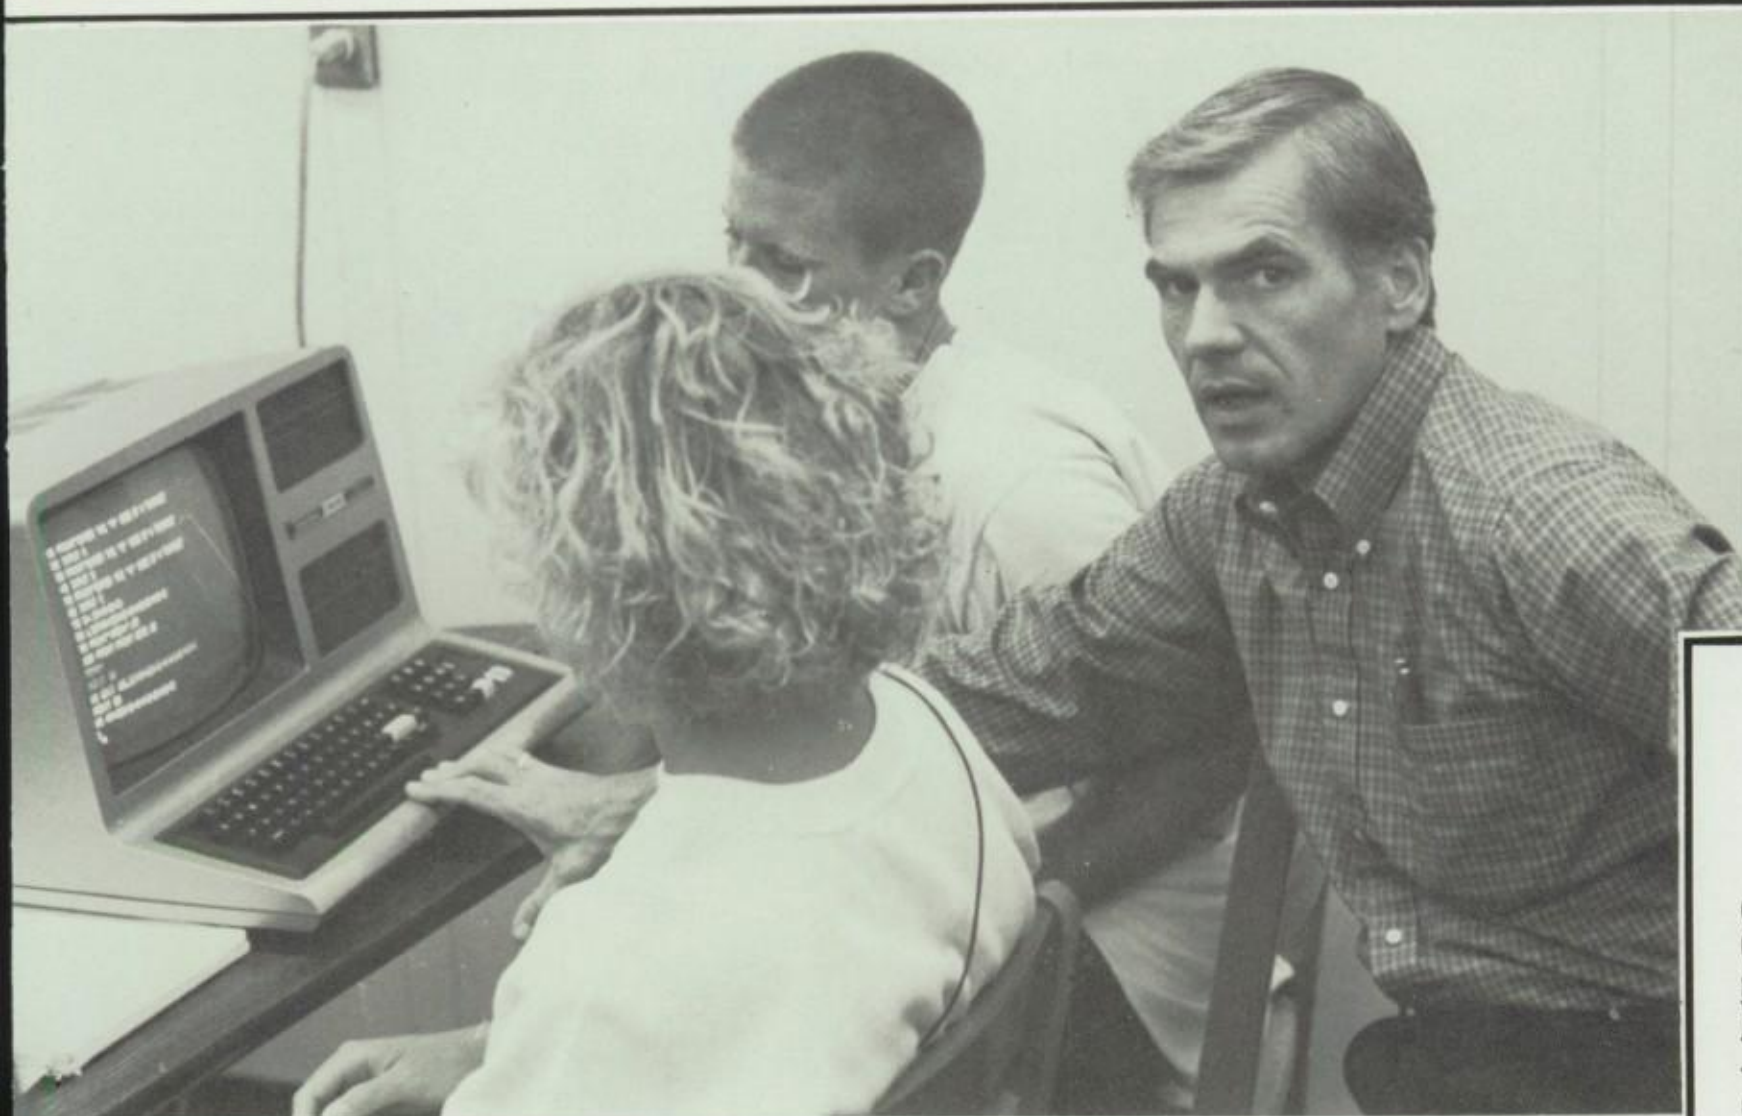

Photography, Drafting, Power Mechanics, Wood Shop and Metal shop make up Newport's Industrial Arts Department. These classes are designed to help prepare students with many of the skills needed for a future job in the industrial world. Many of the skills learned in these classes will be employed in practical home repair and photographic self expression.

RESOURCE SPECIALIST PROGRAM

This program is designed to help students with specific learning difficulties. The class sizes are small and the students receive individual tutoring. Very often a good start in this program leads to successful high school career.

MATHEMATICS

Mr. Noser and his students; the one in the middle is his kid.

Mr. Cochrane is always willing to give a helping hand.

Mr. Grgurich shows one of his math students the way to work out a problem.

Mr. Dye, "Oh come on, its obvious!!!"

From practical math to calculus, from the students taking math because it's required, to the future mathematicians, Newport's math department offers all students one thing, a great education.

MULTI-MEDIA CENTER

Mr. John McGinnis is the librarian at Newport Harbor. He is a fifteen year veteran of the Harbor staff. The first 12 years of his career were spent as an English teacher, and the most recent 3 have been fulfilled with the position of librarian. Mr. McGinnis and his assistant, Jacquie Kuder, have worked hard to bring our library up-to-date with the newest books and reference materials. They really enjoy working with the kids, and for this we thank them.

Just another day of hard work.

A very sensitive situation.

Mr. McGinnis preparing material.

Jacquie Kuder answers another question.

Jenny Gray "Eureka."

PERFORMING ARTS

Mr. Joe Swift instructs his drama students in the production of a show.

Bill Wolf and the choir perform at Newport's X-mas concert.

Newport's jazz band rehearses for an upcoming concert.

Newport's Performing Arts Department consists of numerous classes in the study of visual art. These classes range from acting, singing and performing in a band. Each one of these classes give the talented students at Harbor a chance to express themselves. The various classes are highlighted throughout the school year.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

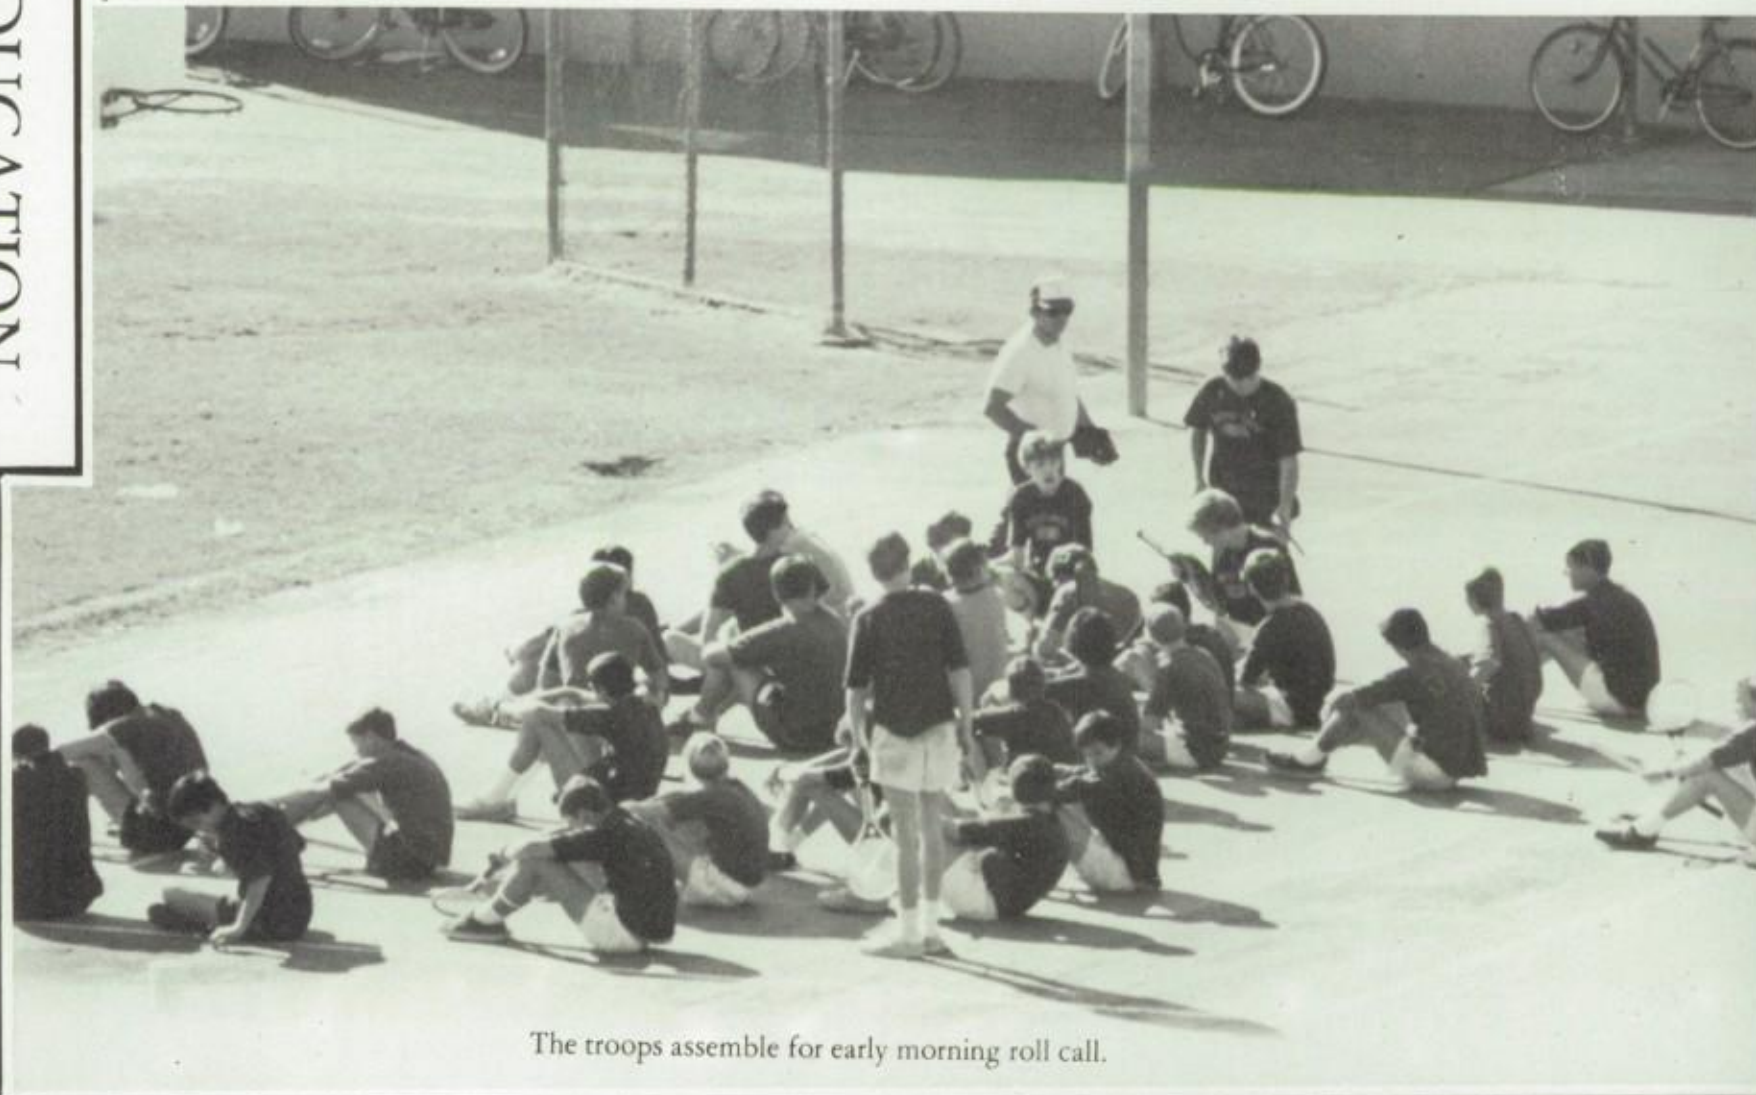

Physical education: cold mornings in shorts, smelly lockers and sweat, the three things that make up the P.E. Department. Who could ever forget the rainy days in the gym playing kill ball or instead of volleyball playing jungle ball? The only thing that got most of us through P.E. was the assurance that it was only required for two years.

The trials and tribulations of a student experiencing physical fitness testing

I don't believe it. The bird swallowed the whole thing!

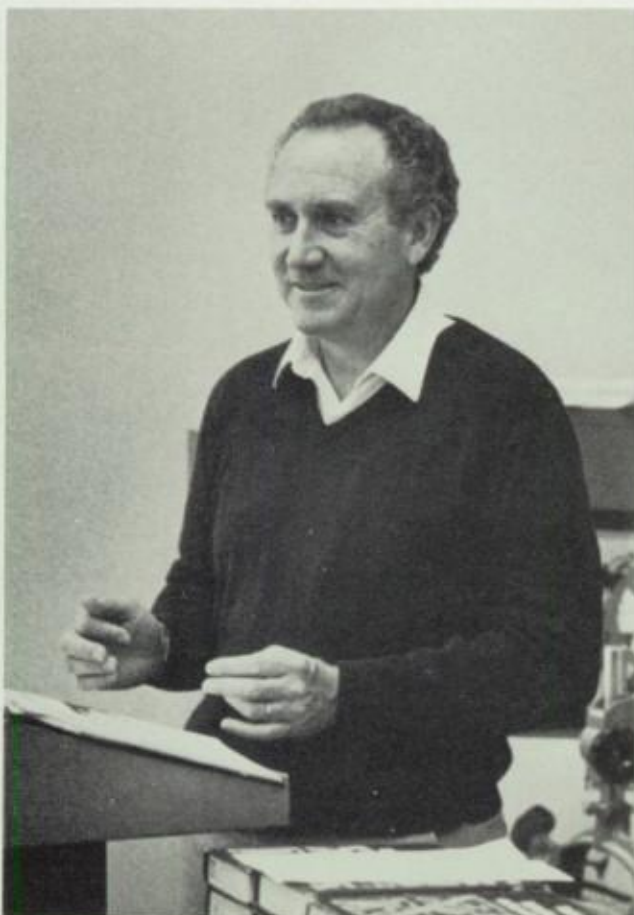

The troops assemble for early morning roll call.

Mr. Duffy forcing Annie on Mr. Spangler

Health education is an eye-opening class required by all students. This class is very informative towards learning about personal hygiene and proper social behavior in a society. Safety-Ed is also a required class which enables students to learn the ways and rules of the road. In order to obtain a drivers license, students must complete this course.

SAFETY AND HEALTH ED.

Mr. Spangler reading the grades of the last test.

Mr. Duffy explaining the internal anatomy of a car to Toni Breadmont, Cari Arthur and Tristeen Parker.

Officer Bob says, "Ugh" to drugs, and "Nope" to dope.

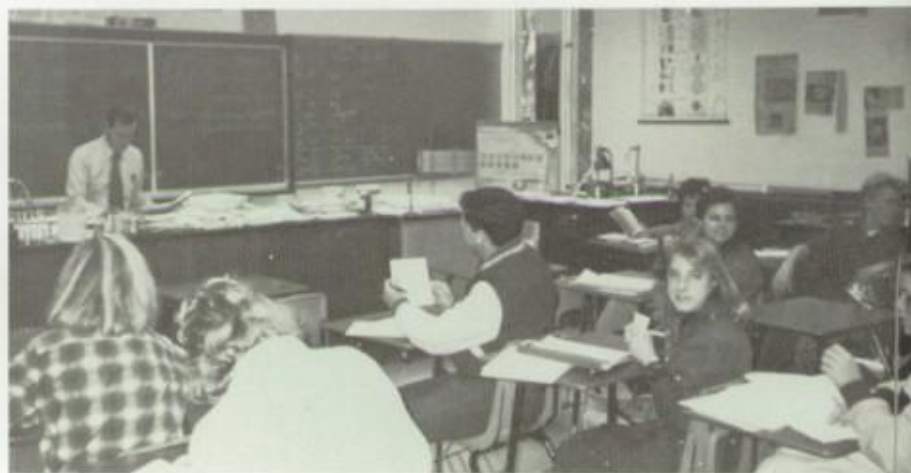

SCIENCE

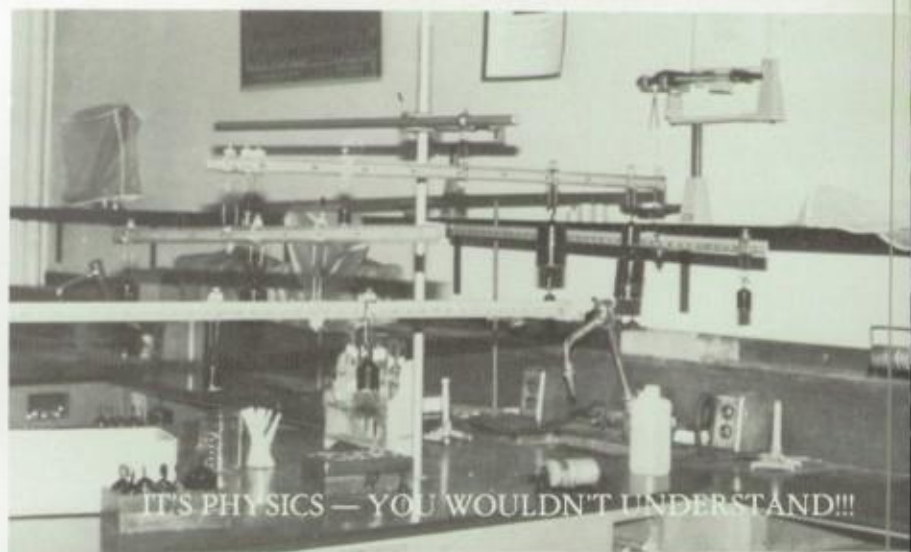

Mr. Dukes, "What do you mean you don't have your homework, Chris?"

Mr. Smith "If you put the numbers in, it should work."

Bug collections, pocket calculators, luck and a lot of intense learning are integral parts of Newport's Science Department. From Biology to Physics, students are able to mix the thrill of learning with the excitement of note taking.

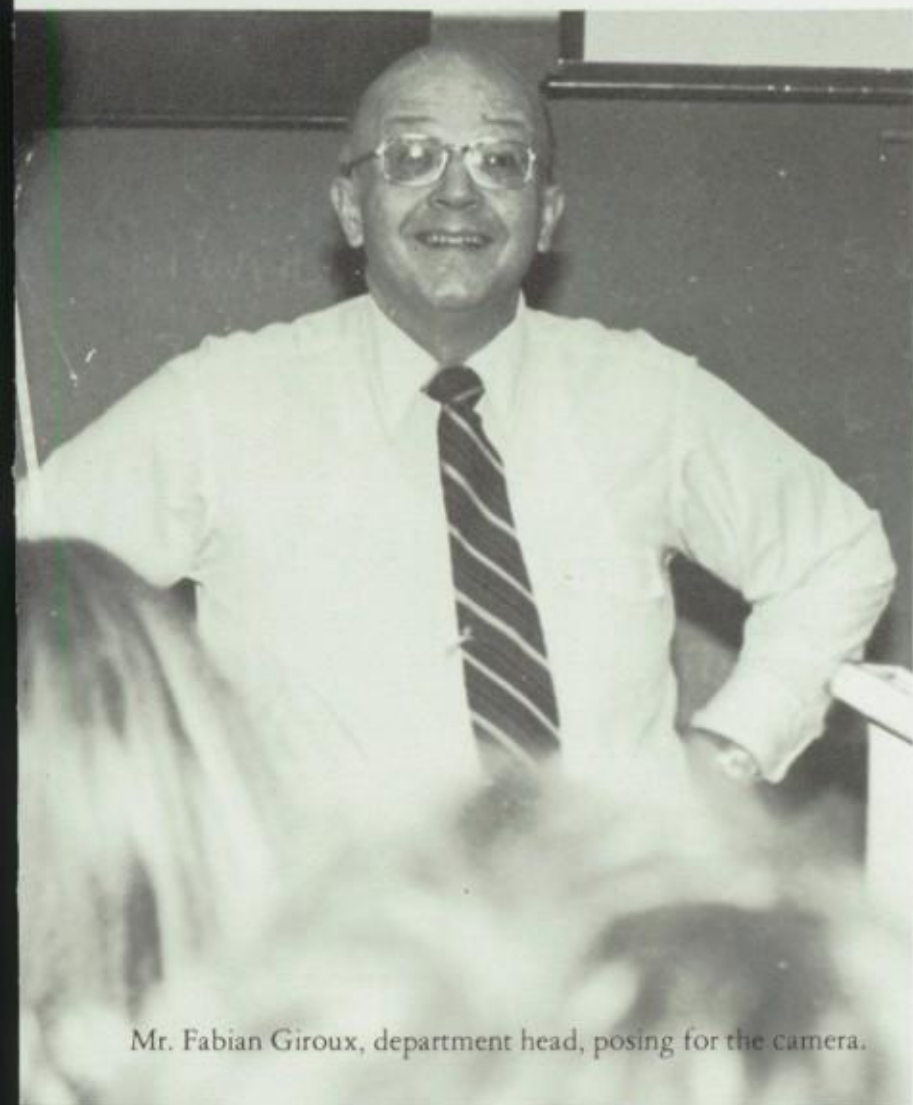

Mr. Horowitz, "Good morning class"

Mr. Bauermeister, "Hey, what's that camera doing in here?"

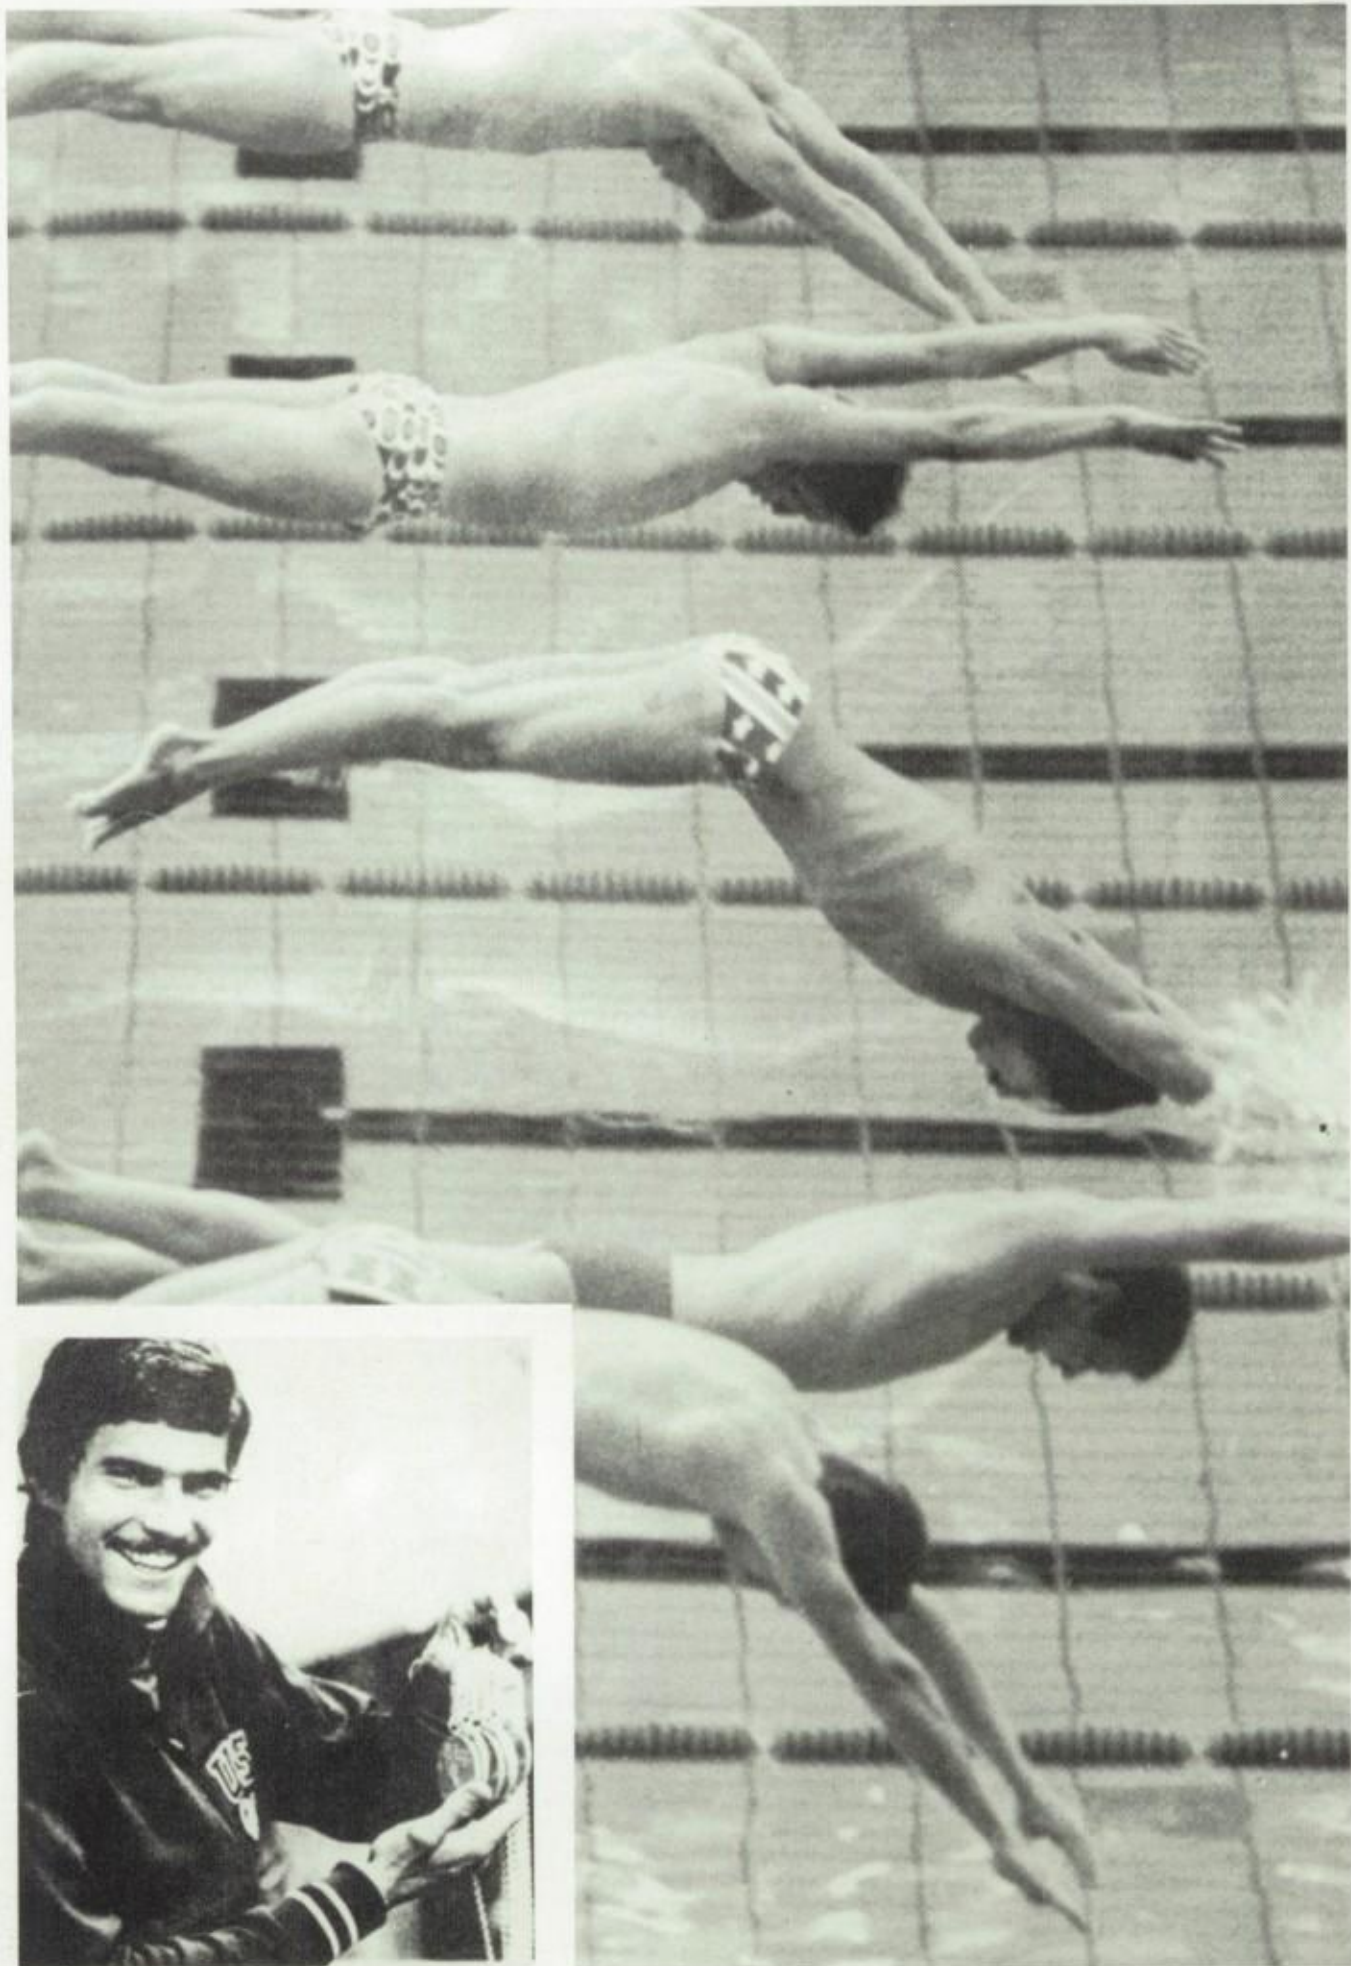

Mr. Fabian Giroux, department head, posing for the camera.

It's Anthropology: Can you dig it???

"History is an account, mostly false, of events, mostly unimportant, which are brought about by rulers, mostly knaves, and taught by teachers, mostly well informed," . . . Ambrose Bierce. But seriously, Newport's Social Science department consists of various classes designed to expand the mind of uninformed students and to expand the minds of others.

YOSEMITE INSTITUTE

Scenic view during Cross-Country skiing.

The famous rock, El Capitan.

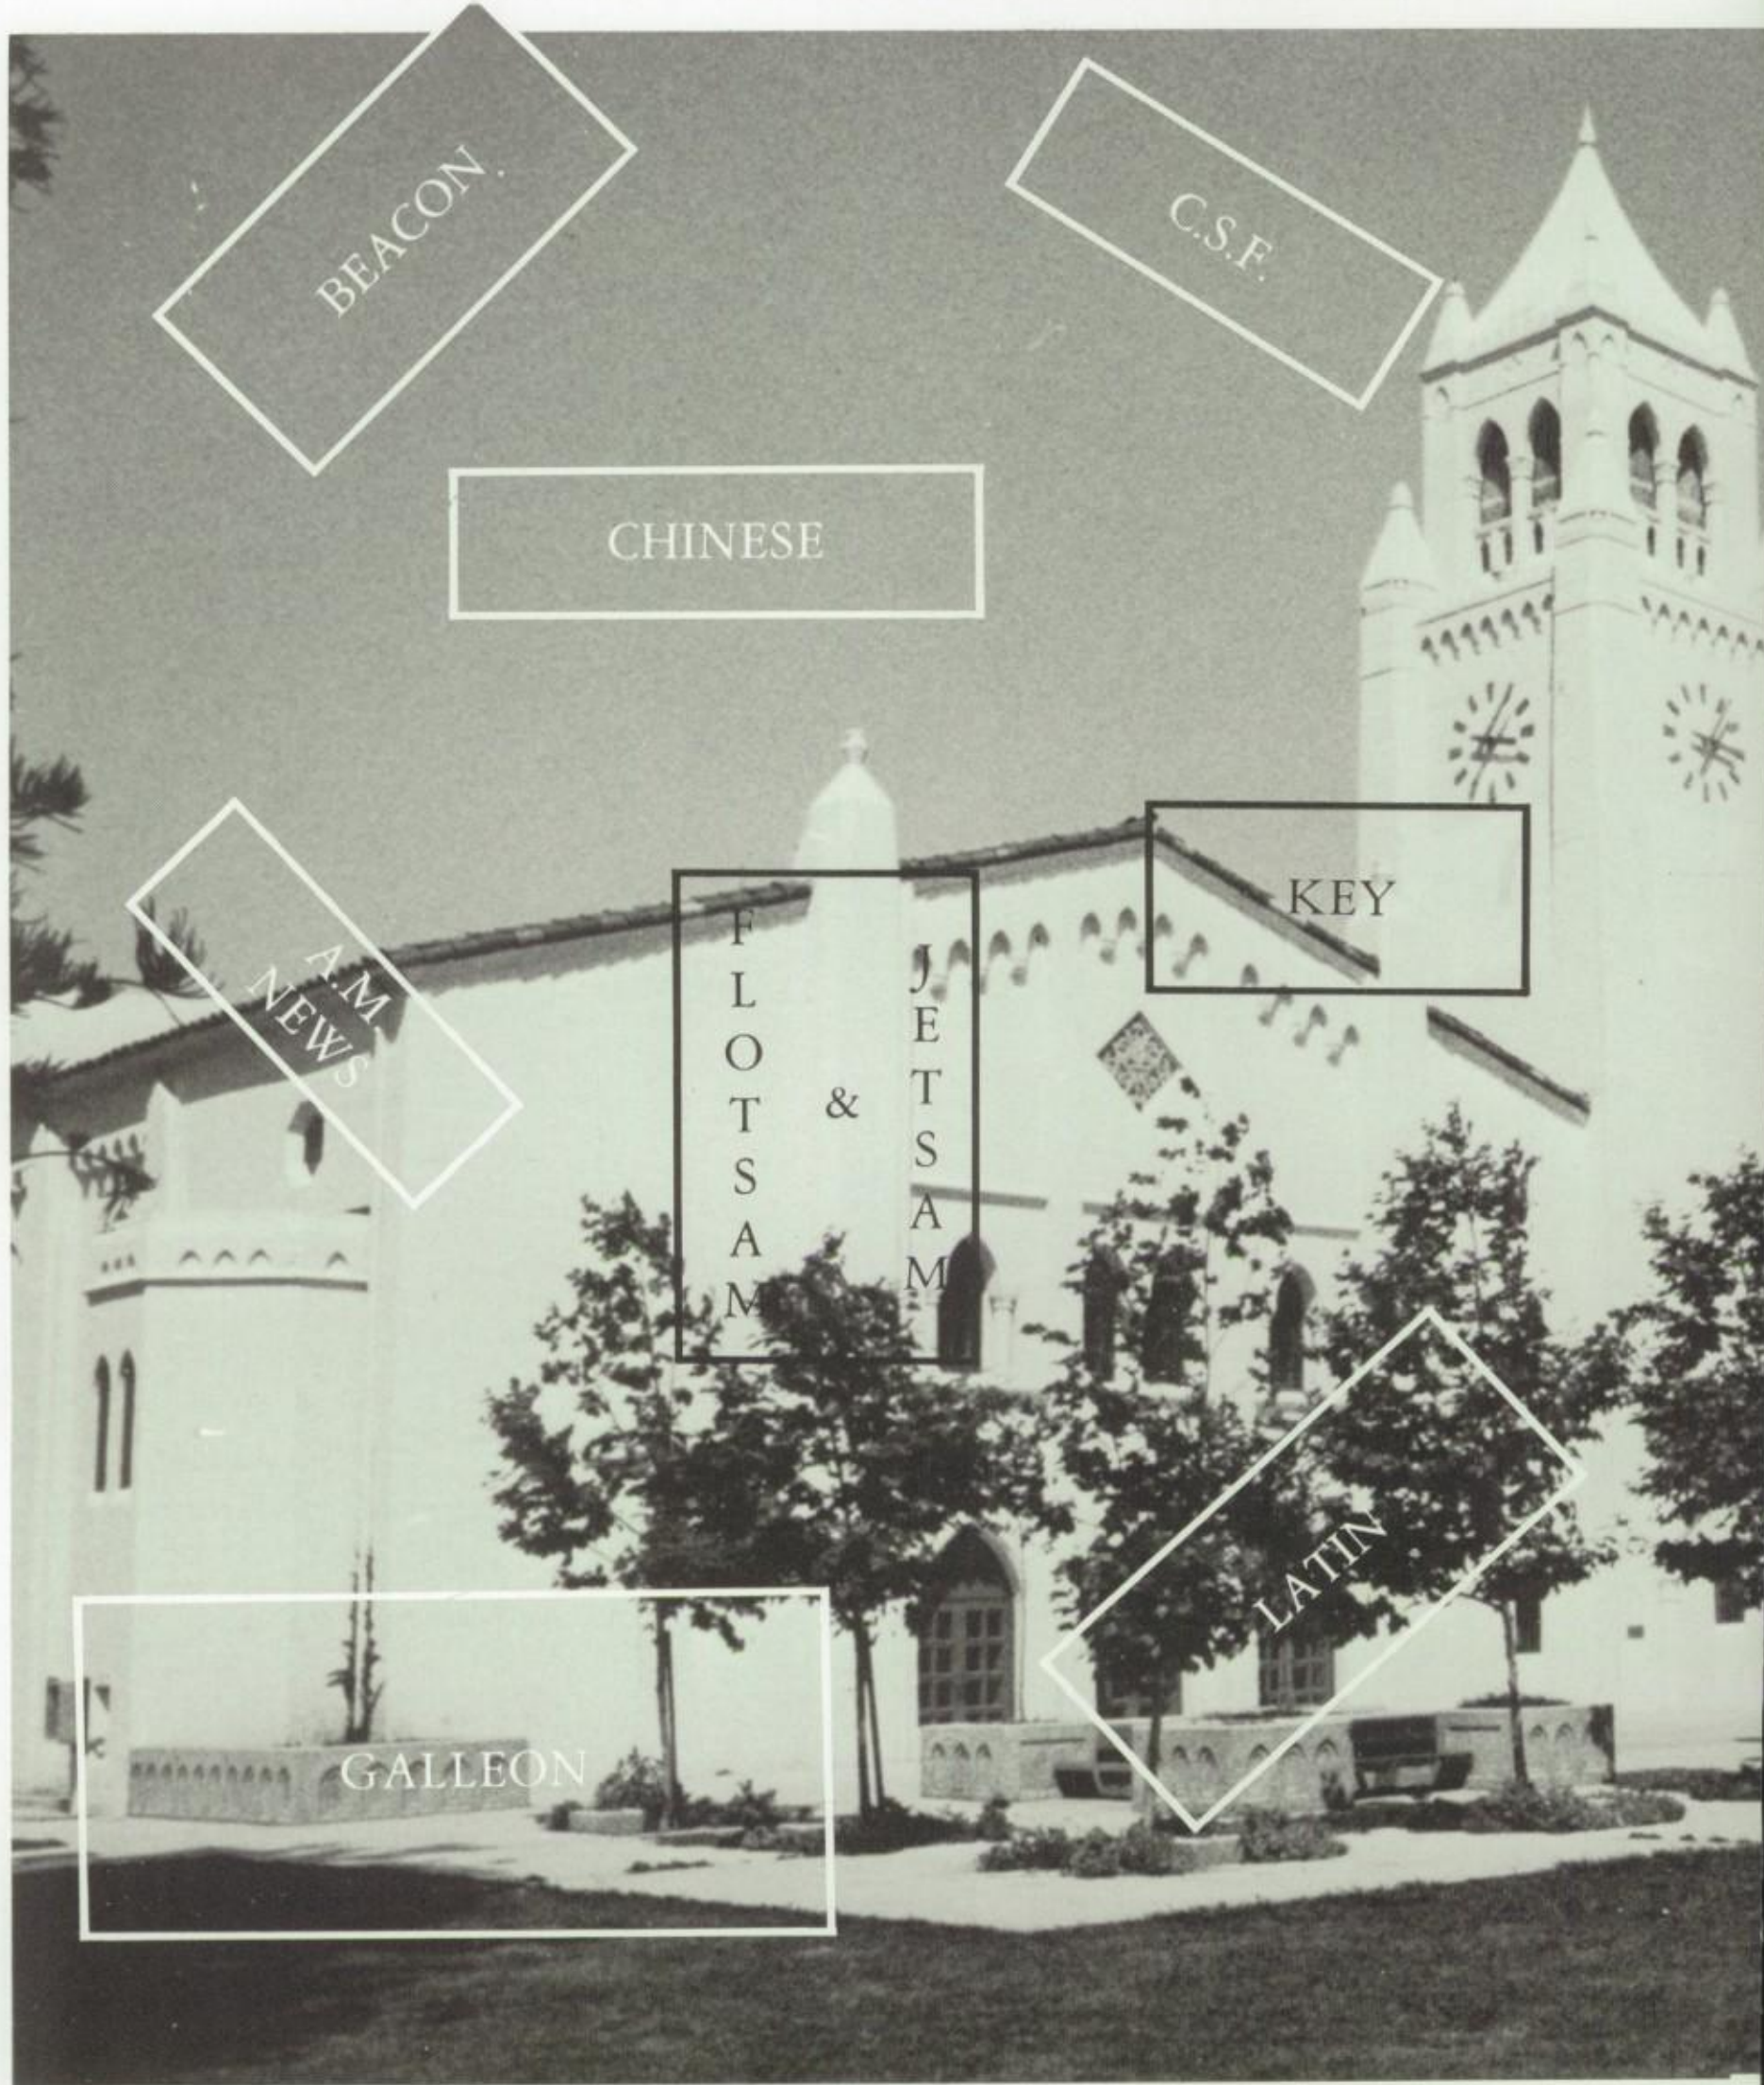

Chris MacDonald, Kim McLaughlin, Kelley O'Hern, Hope Irwin, and Veronica Carter.

Never before has anyone experienced as phenomenal a sight as Yosemite Valley. From the overflowing waterfalls to the steep, jagged rocks, Yosemite is the place to enjoy the wilderness.

The Yosemite Group had a wonderful time exploring the nature of the valley. Climbing up 2000 feet to the top of Yosemite Falls was tough, but after seeing the view all the rough hiking was forgotten. It snowed the last day of the trip, and looked like a picture postcard. Cross-Country skiing topped off the trip. The members will never forget the unreal time they had at Yosemite Valley.

Yosemite Institute Members were: Hope Irwin, Kelley O'Hern, Chris MacDonald, Kim McLaughlin, Lori Thuesen, Tom and Rich, and AFS students Mikael, Atalie, Veronica, Andrea and Jacob. Advisor was: Dennis O'Hern.

AMERICAN FI

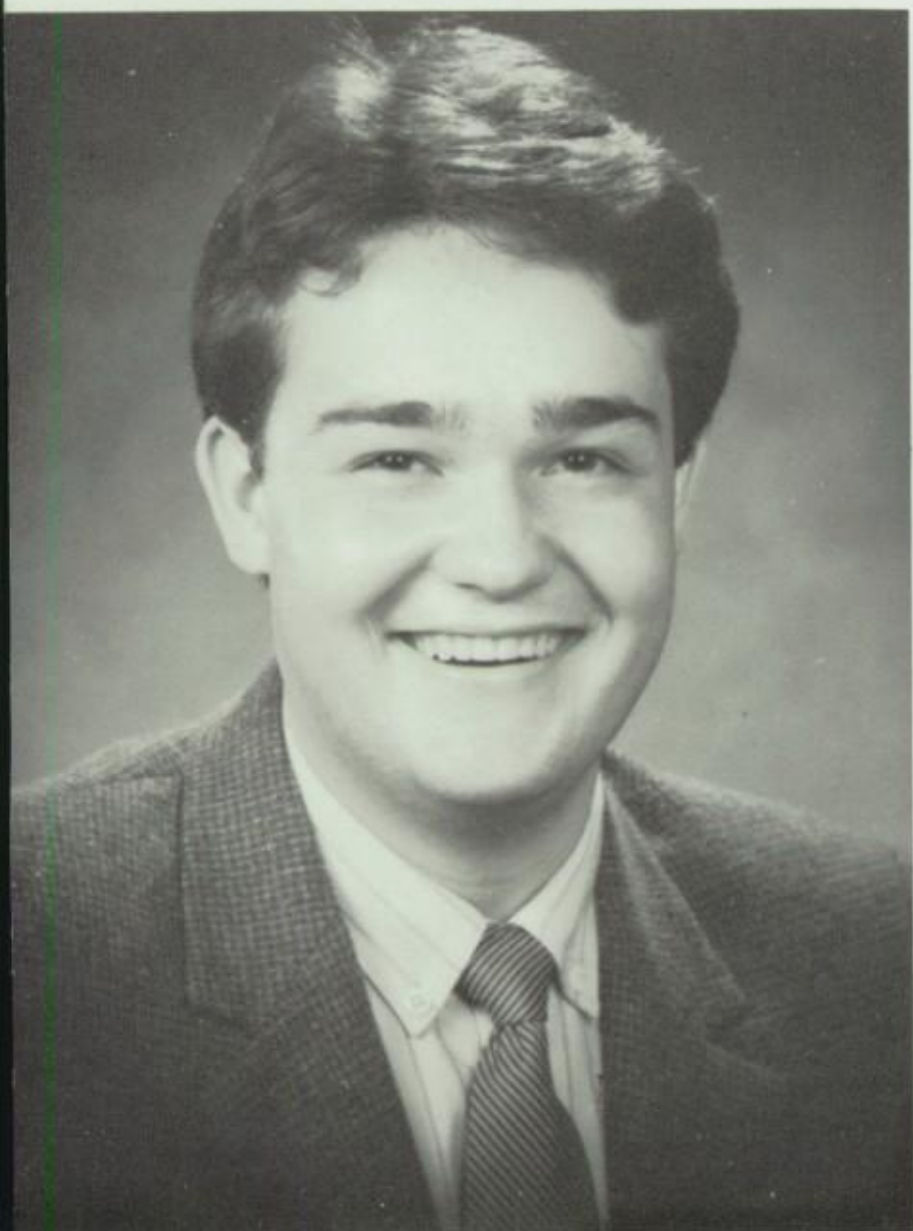

The American Field Service club is a group of special people who want to bring the world a little closer. A.F.S. brings students from over 50 countries to the United States and sends American students abroad. The student club promotes world understanding and friendship and helps the foreign students adapt to life in Southern California.

Our club's foreign students are outgoing, curious about American life, and always fun to be around. We hope that each member of the student club comes to know the foreign students each year; friendships with these fine young people will be remembered and treasured for life.

1. President Hillary Niblo chats with Sofia Guitierrez after tasting some "south of the border" culture.
2. Italian student Andrea Saba befriends Swedish student Mikael Lidfors.

Atalay Buglagil — Turkey

I have lived my best year of my life here. When I first heard of AFS in my high school in Turkey, I wanted to be an AFS student very much. I tried to fulfill that dream for three years and succeeded at last. Finally I am here. Now I am an "AFS'er." That is fantastic. I have made friends from all over the world and learned many things about them and their countries. If you want to be an AFS student and have the opportunity, DO IT!

I love Newport Beach. The weather, the beach, and my friends are all wonderful here. My two wonderful families are the Saddingtons and the Parklinses. They have helped me very much and have shared my every moment; I cannot thank them enough; I love them very much. Thank you S.B.J.M. Thank you all my teachers. Thank you all of my friends. And thank you everyone for this unforgettable year.

Veronica Carter — United Kingdom

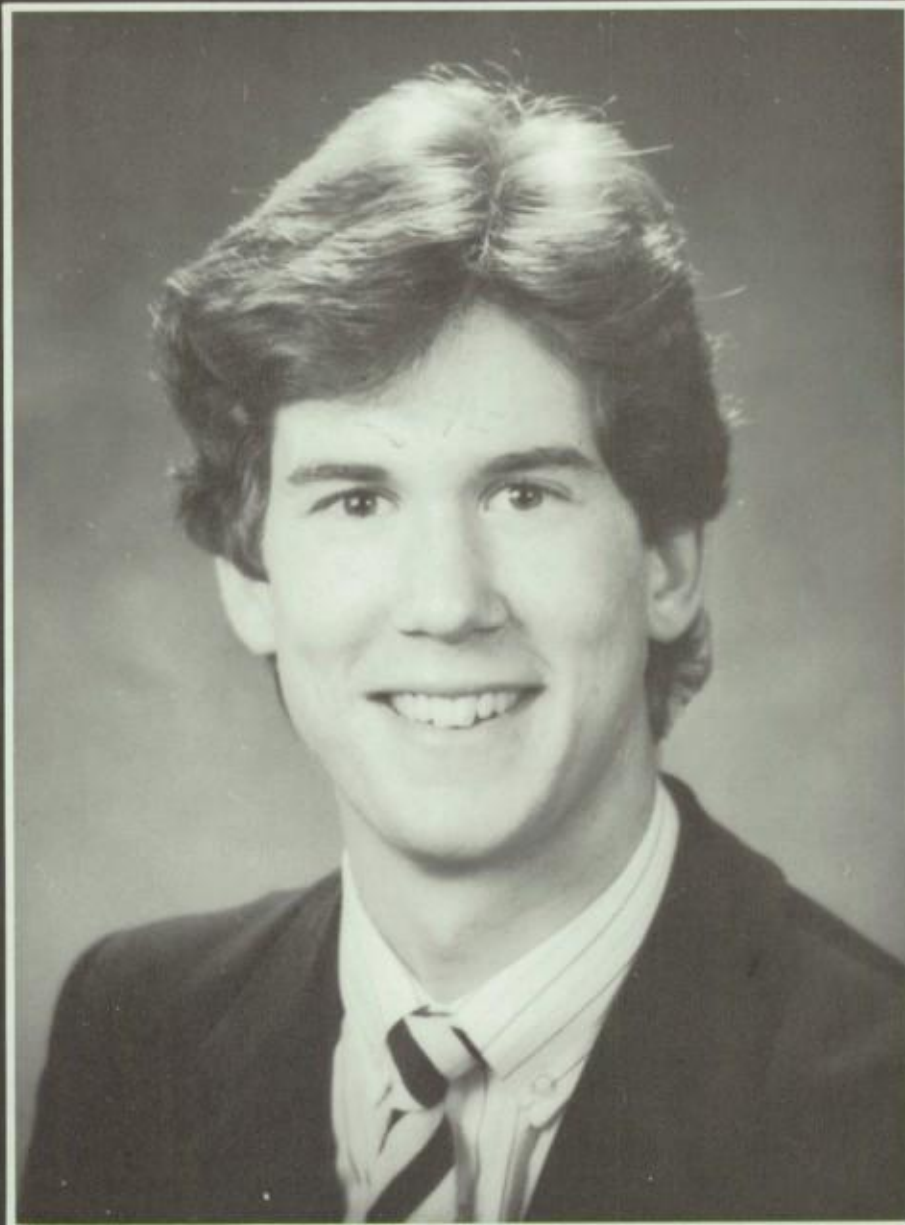

This will be the one and only time I get to write in a year-book, we do not have them in the United Kingdom, so I had better write something profound!

My year in Newport Beach will probably be one of the better years of my life, and I owe it all to the family with whom I lived, the Shriners. They opened their home to me and the friends I have made here who have made the difference between me having a difficult year in Newport Beach and me being able to remember it as a place where I had a good time.

One of the best things about A.F.S. is that it shows that despite our cultural differences, people all over the world are basically the same, and I am glad I could be a part of it.

There. I hope that was profound enough for you! Thanks to everyone for everything, and the best of British luck to all in the future.

BRINGS THE W.

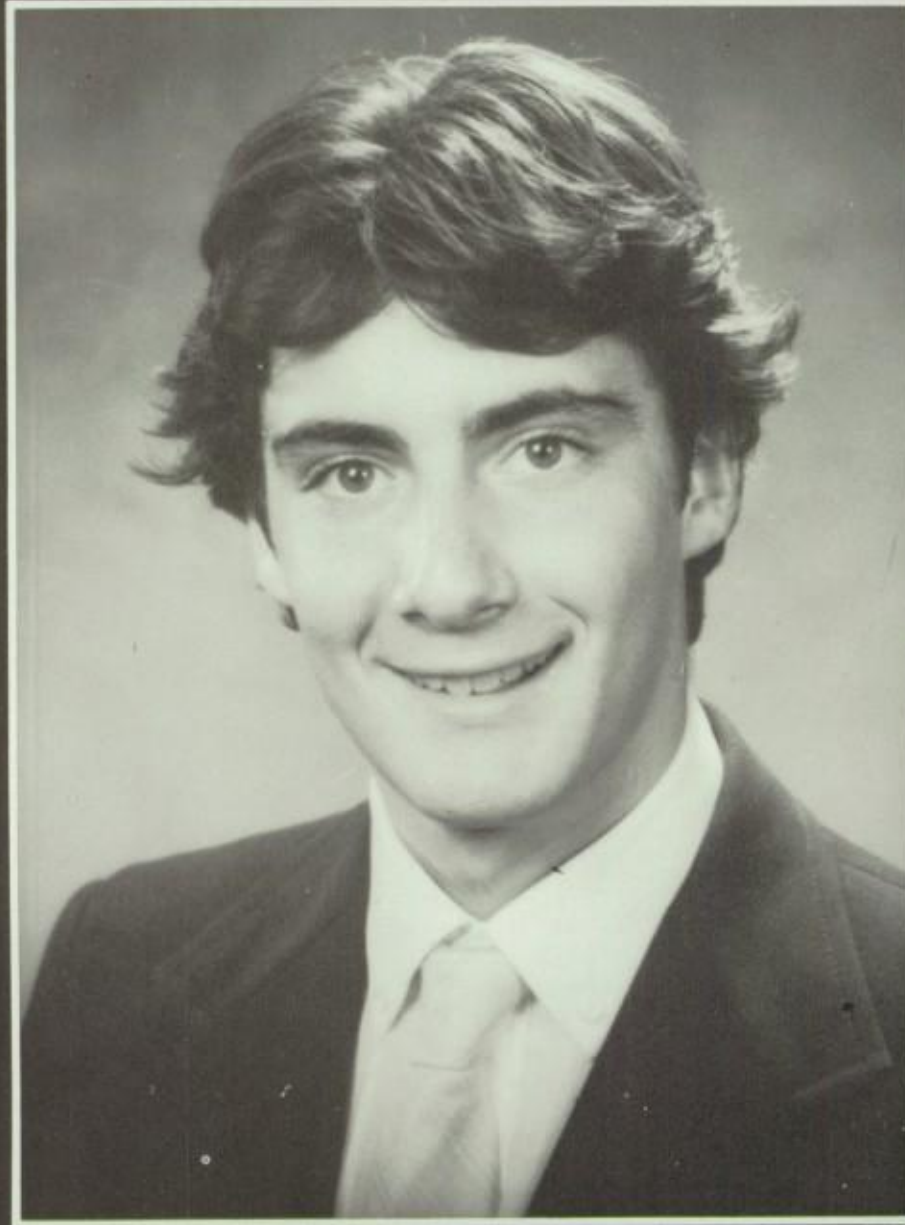

Mikael Lidfors — Sweden

When I left Sweden in August, I did not really think that I was going to be without my family and friends for a whole year. Maybe it was because I did not have to worry about it. I had a new family that was waiting to take care of me, the Lawsons.

It is hard to come to a different country with different customs and people, but after I grew accustomed to the way of life in Newport Beach, I began to feel more comfortable. My decision to come to the United States as an exchange student was made up much because I wanted to learn a second language, meet many new people, and see something different from my little town in the middle of Sweden. All this and many other dreams have been fulfilled this year which makes this the most interesting year of my life.

Editor's note: Mikael is not an AFS student, but he is a foreign exchange student and a member of the AFS club. He also participated in the AFS activities. For these reasons he was included in this AFS section.

Andrea Saba — Italy

When my friend David Sholkoff asked me to write something about my experiences in Newport Beach, I was really glad to have this opportunity to express all my appreciation for coming here.

At first, I would like to speak about my family. I am sure that they are the best that I could have had. My mother is one of the best cooks that I have ever met, an exciting woman, and always full of new ideas and things to do. I cannot be bored with her. My father, Jim, was a famous football player and has taught me how to play. He is really "cool." Crista and Sean are truly my sister and brother. We treat each other as if we are really sister and brothers. I feel like I am a member of the family. We have done many wonderful things together: learning and having fun. I will never forget any of them.

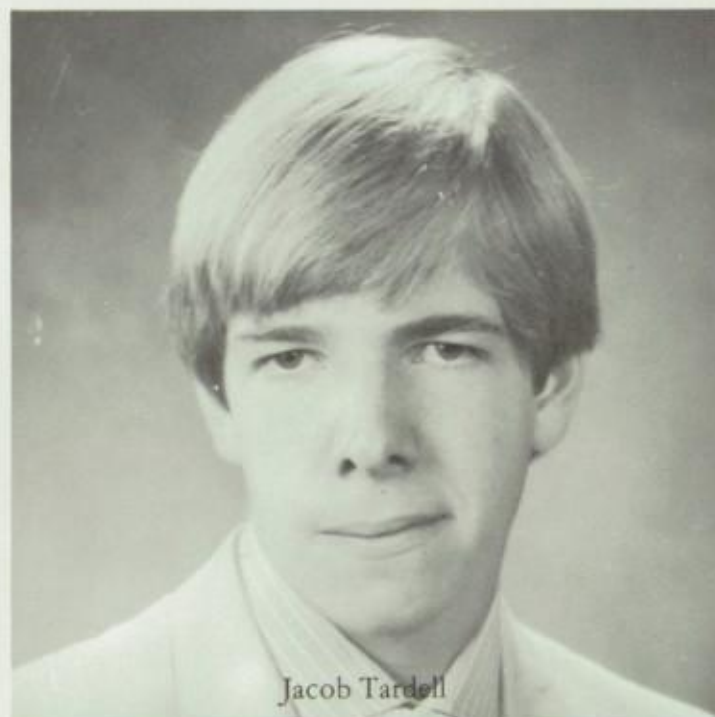

I also have had lots of fun with my friends, so much so that if I wrote about all of them, I would need a book! I did not expect to find such nice people, always ready to help and give me a hand. In a short time I will go back to Italy; I am very sad to leave all these beautiful things that I have found in this mythic land called "California." I will have the memory of this wonderful experience forever, hoping that I have left something of myself with you.

ORLD CLOSER

NEWPORT HARBOR IS EXPANDING ITS HORIZONS . . .

1. Marel Doan on her A.F.S. excursion to Sweden in 1983. Foreign friends are Off, Eva, and Erik.
2. David Sholkoff with his new found friends on one of the many beaches in Italy.
3. Susie Bradbury with her A.F.S. sister Nur Sucuka on the left and friend Sirma. Susie's trip took her to the country of Italy.
4. Darlene Cambell, Juliet, and Hillary Niblo in the country of Germany. Hillary is a Harbor student whose A.F.S. trip led her to meet and see the wonders of Europe.

Jacob Tardell

Coming from Stockholm, the capital city of Sweden, Newport Beach turned out to be a city that suited me well. Coming from a background where I enjoyed sailing, I fitted in very well in the NH sailing club.

One of the nicer changes in coming to CA, was the weather. It's nice to have summer 12 months of the year, but I do miss the snow of a winter in Stockholm.

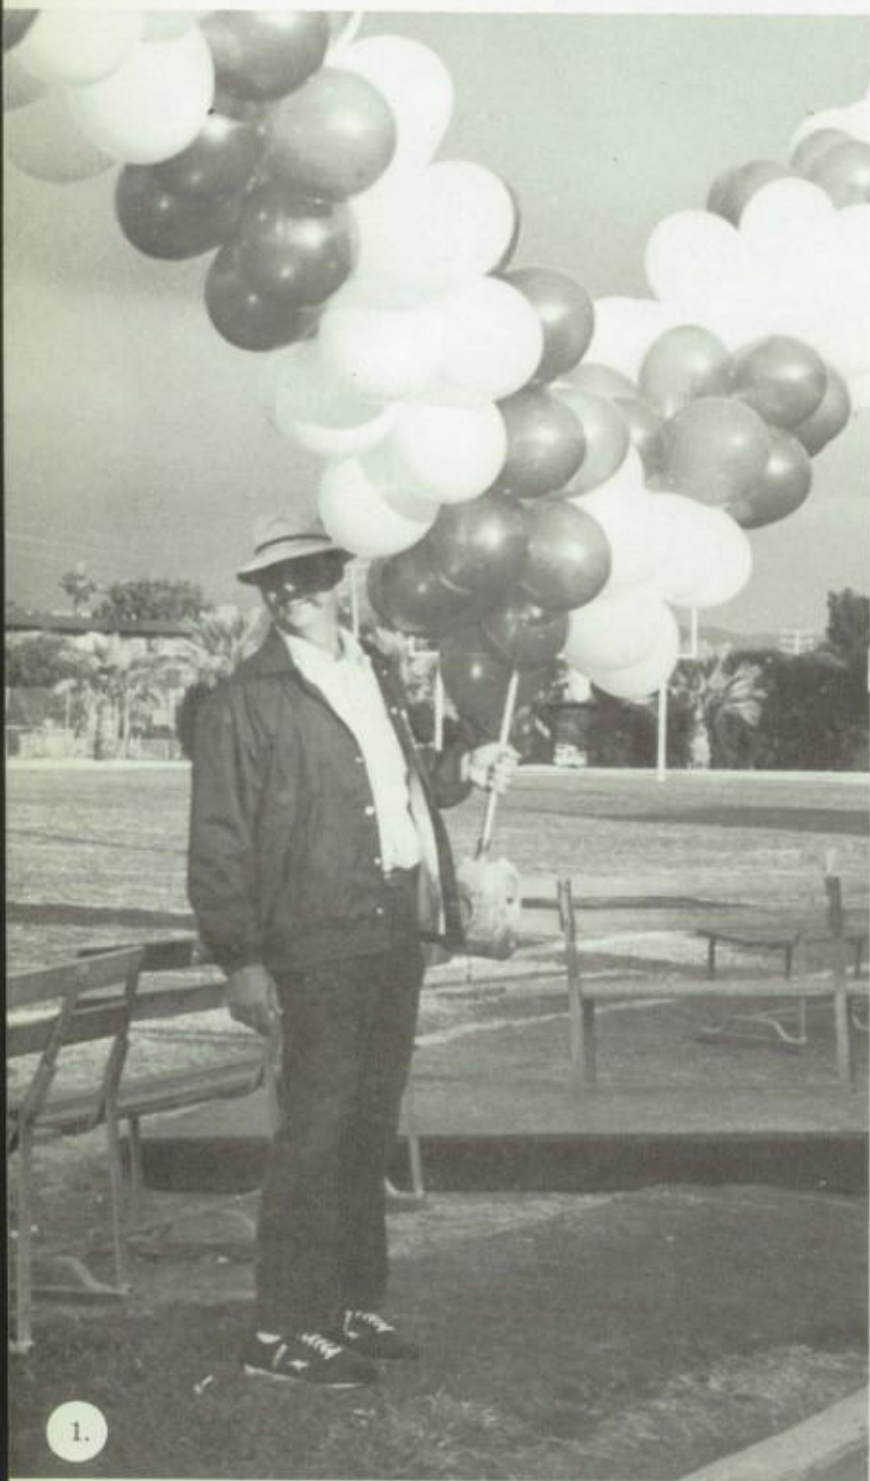

I'm here with the American Scandinavian Student Exchange and I've been living with the Berk family in Newport Beach since August.

Though I've been learning English for 7 years, it took me a while to become confident, especially as you guys don't speak it either. I always thought a speed bump was a sleeping policeman and a freeway was a motorway. You can't spell Harbour properly either.

This year has given me the chance to do a lot of new things, meet a lot of new people, and experience a new way of life. I am grateful to everyone who made it possible for me.

A.S.B. LEADS

Student Government began its session at Leadership Camp during the summer. They learned through the interaction of other leaders from all over the state. They saw sensational dorm windows. The Homecoming Dance and halftime show were successful, as well as the food drive, Charity week, and representation at CASC. Mr. Nunan, the new activities director, helped the students with his support and patience during busy and hectic times. This year's class leaders helped raise school spirit in functions such as the Soph. class breakfast, the Senior Tea, and at "day before school started" party.

NEWPORT HARBOR HIGH SCHOOL THE BEACON

Mr. Stegmier discusses a problem with his editors and tells them the solution.

Editor-in-Chief Bob Bielen relaxes after assigning the work to everyone else.

Sometimes people wonder what goes on behind the closed doors of the Beacon Room. For the benefit of the Galleon's readers, we have included a typical Beacon schedule:

Day 1:
Mr. R. C. Stegmier, Jr. informs staff that this issue will make it to the printer on deadline.
As laughter dies down, the exhausted (from laughing) staff quits for the day.
Day 2:
Editor-in-Chief says "Story Ideas!!"
Koenig (i.e. Paul) screams "put in something about the Ramones!!"
Staff groans and tries to think of ideas, without success.
Bell rings.
Staff applauds, retires for day.
Day 3:
Mr. Stegmier announces "I want to see your preliminary make-up sheets and story assignments up on the board, Now!"
Day 4:
See Day 3:
Day 5:
Staff returns from late lunch.
Bell rings, staff leaves.
Day 6:
Editors get together and assign tentative stories.
Reporters flick off editors.

Advisor moans "But it's your job!"
Disgruntled staff goes home.
Day 7:
Beacon staff has fortune to receive visit from Galleon staff.
Galleon editors accuse Beacon editors of slander.
Beacon editors retort "What slander? We haven't printed anything yet!"
Bell rings.
Mass Exodus from staff room.
Mad advisors complain and threaten to lower grades. Both staffs laugh in unison.
Day 8:
R.C. calls Type Unlimited, assuring them of deadline.
Printer growls.
Bell rings.
Staff bails.
Day 9:
R.C. requests that beginning class be quiet so that he can attempt to teach them something.
Beginning class laughs.
Advanced class shows superiority — has eraser fight.
R.C. knocked unconscious by unlucky eraser.
Editor-in-chief, noticing sports editor leaving early, asks: "to go fry burgers?"
Sports editor retorts "Wrong. We don't fry our burgers, we char-broil them! and they're only 39 cents!"
Staff sighs, leaves.
Day 10:
Editor-in-chief notices that sports page is all photos, no copy, again!
Photographers leave in haste. Preliminary make-up finally finished.
Editor-in-chief groans. Orders pages to be re-made.
Editors ask "Why? We don't see anything wrong with them!!"
Editor-in-chief groans.
R.C. adds "You know he's right!"
Phone rings. Staff prays for ad to fill space. Typesetter yells over phone "Where's all that copy you promised me?"
R.C. begs "whoops! I forgot! — Can we have one more day, pleaseeeze!"
Typesetter growls, hangs up.
Staff panics.
R.C. shows optimism.
Staff really panics.
Editors threaten reporters and photographers.
Day 11:
Staff makes great writing effort — writes captions for pictures.
News and sports stories miraculously appear from nowhere.
Opinion and feature pages discovered blank.
Editors call meeting for 7 pm at editor-in-chief's house.
Night 11:
Staff is late to meeting (so what else is new?) Page make-ups missing (as usual). Editor-in-chief yells "Wait! I know these by heart!" Relieved staff cheers!

Editors (in mad rush) fill feature and opinion pages.
Reporter (flunky) sent with finished stories to R.C.'s humble abode; returns with polyester overdose.
2 am: Beacon staff trudges home; another successful staff meeting completed.

Day 12:
Dawn breaks.
Editor-in-chief rushes copy to typesetter.
Typesetter groans.
Editor-in-chief, late to class, skips first period.
Works (for a short while) in darkroom, manages to skip all academic classes, arrives to Beacon class late. R.C. has fit.
Editor-in-chief calls another midnight oil burning meeting. Staff goes home.
That night:
Editors attempt to paste-up copy. Find extra space and massive holes, not compatible. Koenig yells "Add something about the Ramones!"
Editor-in-chief, in desperation, re-designs pages for 30th time (news for 40th).
Adds one more photo in lieu of Ramones story. Staff cheers.
Staff manages to piece together makeshift newspaper, retires for night.
Day 13:
Editor-in-chief sleeps late, rushes to typesetter to deliver and check copy, arrives at school just in time for Beacon.
Advisor screams "Where's all the copy?"
Staff yells back "At the typesetter!"
Advisor, overwhelmed, faints in disbelief.
Staff goes home, skips homework (again), catches up on sleep.
Day 14:
English teacher juxtaposes Editor-in-chief with round file. Editor takes advantage of auspicious occasion to sleep. Arrives late to Beacon; zooms to printer with remainder of staff to check copy & avoid R.C.'s red tape.
R.C. notices (after 20 minutes) staff is not present. Curses staff and threatens to lower grades. With little choice, approves paper, and sends paper to be printed.
Two weeks later ...
Day 15:
Paper arrives unfolded. Staff and typesetter left to do dirty work again. Finishing. Editor-in-chief washes hands and challenges staff to find all mistakes.
Mr. Stegmier, in his usual complacent tone, comments "It's not a bad issue, but the headlines are atrocious! I hope someone reads the issue!"
Staff counts papers into stacks, takes to office.
Editor-in-chief takes remaining papers home for bird cage lining.
And the cycle starts all over again ... (ugh) ...

BANDS '84 EN

Silence pervades the stadium. Quickly soft-steps trample the earth in synchronized rhythm. Flashes of light glance off wavering trumpets and trombones as they are placed to the lips. They stand in rigid formations, drums strapped to the chest, and flutes tipped horizontally in salute, french horns looped over bodies in a snail-like shell. Short piercing whistle of the drum major and the slight lift of the hand signals the musicians to perform in perfect tone, rhythm, and syncopation.

The song gently unfolds as the band marches on in stiff rigid steps. Matt Hawley is the sergeant of arms, drum major, and the uniting force of the Sailor Band. Directed by Ken Owen, the band performs glorious orchestra classics, twirling and jazzing tunes of the Charleston era, and popular hits of 1984.

1. The marching band in formation at half-time.
2. Senior Matt Hawley leads the band as drum major.
3. Junior Joey James and senior Todd Thurman play trumpets for the jazz band.

TERTAIN ALL!

1. Mr. Owens leads the concert band in the inner quad.
2. The concert band plays carols before winter vacation. Songs included the "Muppet Theme."
3. The Jazz Band: (L-R) Joey James, Todd Thurmon, Ricky Campos, Mannie Adams, Todd Feldstein.

CHINESE CLUB

The Chinese Club, in its second year at Harbor, is proud that it is one of only two clubs of its kind in southern California. The club is open to anyone interested in learning about the Chinese culture. Several exciting activities occur during the year including a trip to San Fransico's China Town, Dinner outing to prominent Chinese restaurants, fund raising events, and lots of fun times working together.

A new program started at Harbor this year; in fact, it is the first in the whole district. Group W Cable company has started a inner-district cable news program. The show is called Class TV. This show informs students in the entire district what is going on at their school. Aside from the regular news portion of the show there are personal interviews and regular feature presentations. Some of the personalities include Wendy Barto, Bob Hassey, Dave Toma, and Kevin Wilkes. Features were done on break dancing, pro surfing, and many more interesting things. Under the advisement of Mr. Nunan, Mr. Robinson, and Mr. Swift, the news ran very smoothly.

Student producer for Harbor was Nancy Baum who worked very hard to put Harbor's portion of the show together. The rest of the news team includes: Denise Root, Leslie Jones, Nancy Baum, Greg Schwank, Sean Ward, With Alternates Wendy Barto, Lisa Kaenal, Eric Oberg, Rob Giem, and Melissa Windsor.

FLOTSAM & JETSAM

Flotsam & Jetsam is Newport Harbor's annual literary magazine. The words, FLOTSAM & JETSAM literally mean, wreckage of a ship floating on the sea, miscellaneous trifles or worthless things, or unemployed people and vagrants. Holding a tradition of over 30 years, this magazine puts together a collection of pictures, poems, and stories, to be released every June.

Ingrid, deep in thought

WE FLY THE BLUE COMMANDER'S

The clouds flow by , on endless stream
 Until the rain's no more a dream
 Of darkness, wet and heavy still
 And out fall thoughts the clouds did fill.

The way is easy for us now
 The wind, our host, does still allow
 As through the singing sky we sail
 Our wings to spread through the dark trail.

The bolts of lightning cause our day
 We add our shouts, "Make way, make way!"
 Its thunder is our clarion cry
 "The Blue commander's ship is nigh!"

On comes the galleon, silent, grand,
 Its sails spread all through the land,
 And certain people stop and stare
 As fragile beauty gilds the air.

The Blue Commander stirs the earth
 With still a blessed touch of mirth
 And allwho see and wish to try
 May spread their wings and with us fly.

FRENCH CLUB

Vive La France!!! France, the wonderful country of fattening, but delectable, breads, cheeses, wines, and pastries. It is the home of the exotic French and their romantic accent. At Newport Harbor there is a club that delves into these and other aspects of the French culture and language. What is this group called? Naturally, the "French Club." You have probably seen the members infiltrating your classes with See's suckers and heard them speaking that weird language of four confusing accent marks and fifteen verb tenses. However, they do more than lighten your pocket-book. Among their other activities are going to French movies and restaurants and discussing important events in France, such as food and fashion trends. All of this improves their fluency in the language. To all future French club members: Bonne Chance from 1984.

Advisor: Mr. Gentile

Once again this year as in the past, the German club is responsible for addicting most of the student body, and half the administrators, to those cute little Gummy bears.

That's not all they do however. With all that hard earned money they have taken field trips to places like Alpine Villiage, and have even gone to a few movies. (Das Boot?)

Much of their remaining funds are given in the form of gift certificates to members who have made outstanding efforts in the promotion and sales of Gummy bears.

Chris MacDonald hard at work

The yearbook writers have a job which must be taken with a sense of humor, a grain of salt, and patience for your fellow man. At the beginning of the school year everyone is happy, enthusiastic and willing to work. By December, a slight irritability seems to creep into the staff room, and procrastination develops. Before the last deadline in the middle of March a complete metamorphosis has taken place.

Editor: "Are we going to make this deadline and have the yearbooks arrive before school's out — possibly saving our lives from a malicious student body?"

Staffer: "Grr!"

Editor: "Seriously, will your pages be turned in on time, proofed and ready for print?"

Staffer: "GRR!"

Editor: "But it's the least you can do for your grey-haired old Editor!"

Staffer: "GRR! GRR! GRR!"

Suddenly and inexplicably yearbook staffers suffer epileptic seizures, and on March 15 an overall metamorphosis turns them into "The Living Dead". This is not an uncommon occurrence among yearbook people during the month of March. (For that matter, neither is the lynching of editors!) They stumble around, eyes half closed with lack of sleep, sporting big black circles and grizzled visages, with tassled and knotted hair and grease smudges on their fingers. Fear is a perceptible quality found within the staff room's trembling composure . . . fear of failure . . . fear of the student body . . .

But this year's staff has worked diligently and patiently on all aspects of your 1984 edition of the Galleon. We are delighted and extremely proud to share our production with the graduating class of 1984. We dedicate this book to you, to our years together, and to all your achievements in the future.

GIRLS' JUST WANT TO HAVE FUN

Girls' League represents all the girls on campus. There are approximately forty girls this year. Every Wednesday at lunch they meet to plan such events as the sucker sale, flower sale, and parties. They also plan the "girl ask guy" winter formal. A new project this year is the "Girl of the Month." Whoever has done the most service for Girls' League and would best represent the club is elected. The girl's photograph is displayed prominently in Beek Hall. Every month the girl is elected from a different class and no officers can be elected to keep it fair. There has been great response. Especially from the younger girls to this new idea. This year's officers are: Merrilee Campbell — President, Katie Wagenseller — Vice President, Traci Marinovich — Secretary, and Sharon Cotliar — Treasurer. Mrs. Sadler is the advisor.

KEY CLUB SERVES

Here at Newport, the KEY CLUB is a unique service organization sponsored by a local Kiwanis Club. This uniqueness stems out from each member's interest in helping the community. During the year the club not only provides the school with many services, but it goes beyond, into the community as well. It undertakes various projects for the benefit of several local charities. Key Club provides a chance for today's youth to constructively build a better community.

"Good morning. This is 1984 and we're on regular schedule." Every morning four voices ring throughout the halls of Newport Harbor with the day's announcements. They remind us of club activities, sporting events, and scholarship information. Every day there is an interesting quote from some famous figure. Their dedicated advisor, Mr. Joe Robinson, oversaw everything. Senior David Sholkoff was the alternate.

Peer Counseling started in 1981 here at NHHS and functions as a branch of a nationwide program that teaches teens how to help their peers. Sensitive and caring students are at the core of the group and they learn skills such as listening and being non-judgemental when giving advice. Mr. Murphy, the advisor, helps the students gain invaluable insight into themselves and others. This enables them to deal maturely with themselves, their friends, and other people of society.

THE MIRACLE WORKE

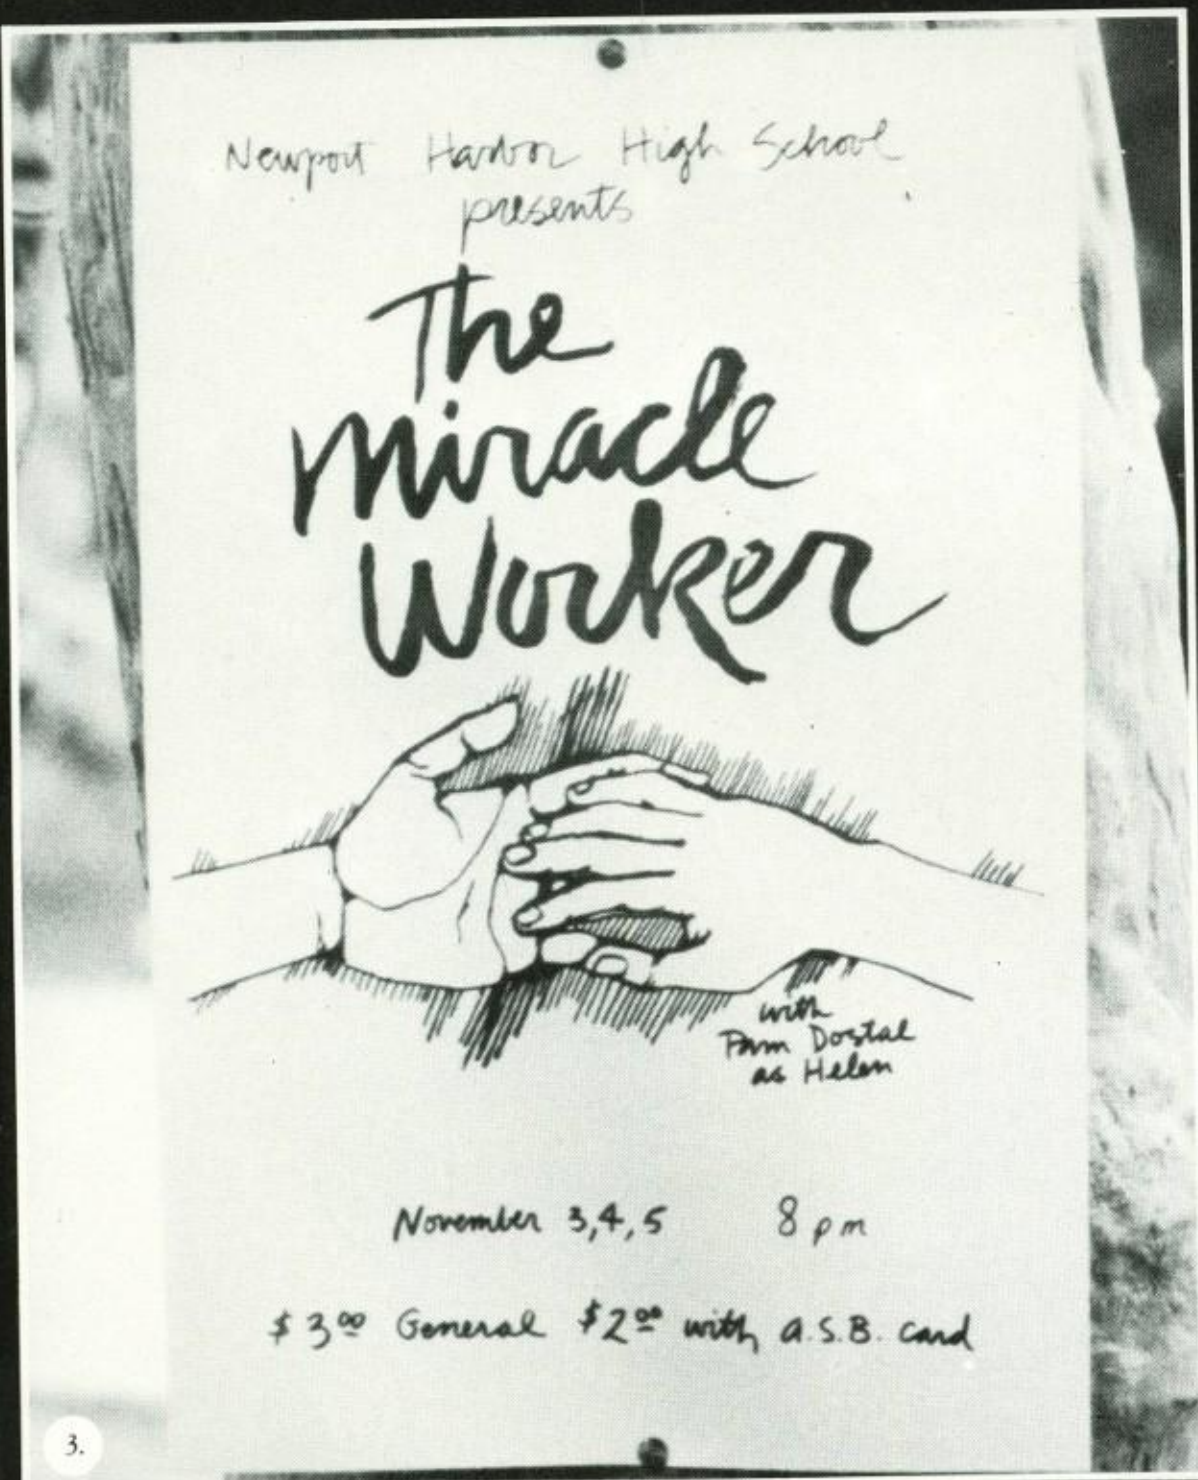

Melissa Windsor, Brian Foxx and Wendy Barto discuss Helen's problem.

This year's fall play was "The Miracle Worker", by William Gibson. Pam Dostal had the starring role as the blind, deaf, and mute Helen Keller. She had a strong supporting cast with leads played by Wendy Barto, Brian Foxx, Melissa Windsor, and Brad Young. Mr. Joe Swift, the drama instructor, directed. Pam Dostal, who is deaf herself, gave a beautiful and moving performance.

Wendy Barto has some Success with Pam Dostal at the water pump.

The ski club, one of the more popular clubs on the N.H. campus, thrilled those lucky and ski-fanatical members by providing a few ski trips to nearby and distant locations. Included in the itinerary were trips to Salt Lake City, Tahoe, Mammoth, and the all-time favorite Easter vacation special, excursion to Squaw Valley.

The SOCIAL SCIENCE CLUB has major responsibilities each year. These include the annual Christmas Toy Drive which this year, netted over 500 toys for 400 needy Children chosen by the Headstart Organization. Harbor's Social Science Club was also in charge of the annual blood drive, co-sponsored with the Red Cross. Even though the drive occurred during a heavy flu season, 135 students and 6 teachers donated 103 pints. Both the Red Cross and Headstart commended our club for superior achievement. The club's advisor, Mr. Andy Smith, did a superb job this year.

SPEECH TEAM

This year's speech team was quite successful. Harbor's two-time national champions, Wendy Barto, took first place in nearly all her competitions in dramatic interpretation. Mr. Joe Swift, the club's advisor, helped every member to achieve their highest potential in speech. Two great freshmen were Melissa Bradshaw and Kim Hoskins. They went Varsity after only a few competitions. Other outstanding team members were Nancy Baum, Melissa Windsor, Denise Root, and Greg Schwank. Speech is a very competitive school activity, all of the team did an outstanding job thanks to our president, Denise Root, and advisor Mr. Swift.

SINGS

Will the real Michelle Baron please step forward.

Smile everybody, there's a talent scout in the audience.

At the beginning to the '83-'84 school year the music department started with a new choir instructor. It was a transition that was hard for some students to make, but under the attention of Bill Wolf the choir pulled together.

Then, at the semester, the students were once again called upon to pull together. Steve Whight was introduced to a wary classroom.

Since then, Steve has taken the recently orphaned choir under his wing. They're singing again, it's good to hear.

Play it again Michael baby!

4th place 1983 National Champions Erik Hauser, Matt Paskerian, and Brian Hemley would have won the 1983 Cotton Bowl, in Texas, except it was canceled because the lake was frozen over.

We expect the Varsity team of Erik Hauser, Matt Paskerian, Steve Mader, Dave Blackman and Todd Russell to do very well in the National Championships this spring at the Naval Academy in Annapolis.

EVENTS

THE

This year's 23rd Olympiad has instilled all nations of the world with electrifying spirit, eminent good-will and the encompassing thrill of competition. Newport Harbor echoes the spirit and ideals of the Olympic games. Harbor's athletes bond together for a powerful foundation that spurs the individual toward greater heights and achievements. Not only do our athletes possess physical prowess and highly tuned skills, they also exhibit an overwhelming zeal to achieve. All of the joy and thrill of American competition is illustrated in the following pages:

CHEER AND SONG

VARSITY: Kathy Grundhofer, Merrilee Campbell, Gretchen Seberg, Michelle Steinman, Allison Lyle, Shana Berry.

This year's Varsity Cheer was indeed unique. Michelle's electric eyes always kept the crowd enthusiastic; and Allison when not falling off pyramids, was very good at organizing the group. Merrilee and Gretchen led a victorious NH in the famous shaving cream fight at camp. Shana "Michael Jackson," was also conniving. Kathy "Grundy" was best known for giving the squad something to laugh about. Thanks, Newport, for making their senior year the best! They'll never forget it.

1. Lynn and Michelle exhibit their "Close-up" smiles.
2. Wake up, ladies. It's Homecoming.

SONGLEADERS: Katie Wagonseller, Jaryl Taylor, Lynn Murray, Betsy Ross, Pam Dostal, Susie Rumsfeld, Gina Speers, MariJo Merrell, Lisa Kaenel.

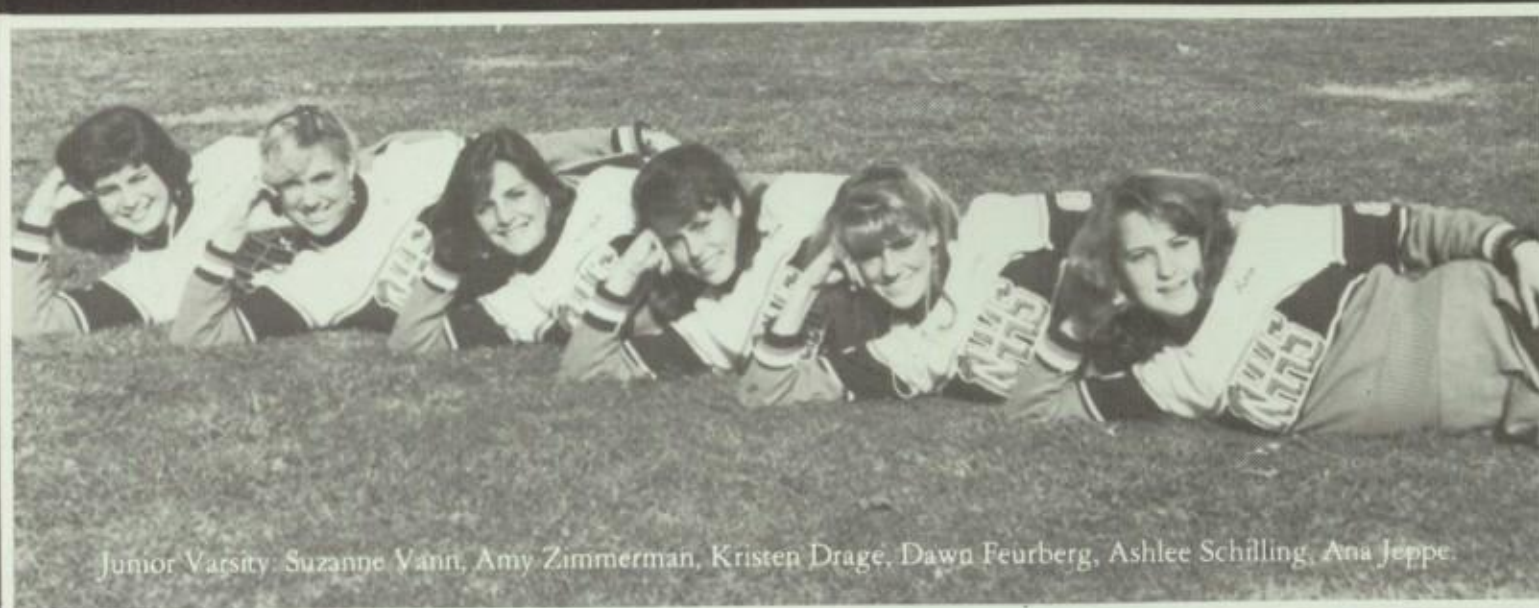

The 1983-1984 songleaders were a very special group. All nine loved to dance, and it showed. Though they had a lot of fun . . . they worked hard too! For example, a typical practice went like this: MariJo arrives 10 minutes early; and after waiting for everyone to arrive, she comments "Everyone's here . . . but where's Betsy?" 25 minutes later Betsy arrives, and Jaryl finishes the details of her last date. Commander Katie yells "Let's count it out without the music a couple 100 times . . . "Ready?" Lynn reports "Whatever. Just tell me what to do." After half an hour, Lisa suddenly has an emotional breakdown, and Pam sympathizes with her. Susie suggests they get back to work. 20 minutes after this, the routine is complete and all are satisfied. Then Gina speaks up "Ya know, guys . . . I think the routine would look better like this."

Frustrating? Maybe . . . but it was worth it!

1. Songleaders dance to a special beat.

2. Hey, Jaryl, Lynn, and MariJo, is this a new routine?

CHEER

Junior Varsity: Suzanne Vanni, Amy Zimmerman, Kristen Drage, Dawn Feurberg, Ashlee Schilling, Ana Jeppe.

Frosh-Soph: Maggie Henson, Brook Stanley, Julie Evans, Linda Her, Nancy Corne, Susan Warrington.

This year's JV and Frosh-Soph cheerleaders were extremely active. They could be found at all underclass games from football to basketball to water polo. These faithful cheerleaders tried to give their support evenly to all teams. They appeared at all the games, whether rain or shine, and spread Harbor spirit. Although the year was busier than any of them had anticipated, each one of them loved the excitement involved. They were really dedicated, and each is hoping to be chosen for next year's squad so she can continue to help boost Harbor's pride in its athletes.

I.D. Hard at work on a new routine

Although most people probably never saw the Auxiliary perform, they did! You may have noticed the blue and white dots on the field during football half-time shows — That was the Tall Flag and I.D. Squad, the two groups that comprise NH's Auxiliary.

The Auxillary is a hardworking performing group. Besides the half-time shows they compete in parades accenting the band. Among the many awards received, the Tall Flag squad won a 1st place trophy for their excellent performance in the Christmas Parade. The I.D. squad marches proudly in front of the band carrying the Newport banner.

The Auxiliary owes much of its success to their devoted advisor Jennifer "mommy" Adams.

"Smash that birdie!" This year's co-ed badminton team may appear to be sadistic with their slaughtering serves. The J.V. team is coached by Carol Hamilton, with the varsity players being recruited and trained in an aggressive approach by Mrs. Grotta. The varsity coach anticipates an enthusiastic third place in this year's league. Honorable mention for best players go to Randy Sennes, Eric Dexter, Paul Campbell, Penelope Mackie, Leslie Ryan and Laura Power.

1. Philip Leider grins as he walks towards the putting green.

2. Jim Thrasher demonstrates the follow-through of his swing.

Arnold Palmer and "Slamming" Sammy Snead would be proud of Newport Harbor's avid golfers. It is the beginning of the season and it already appears to Coach Thrasher that the championship will be theirs. This year's golf team is an accomplished group, and the coach is enthusiastic about their abilities. He is particularly pleased about his team's triumph over Esperanza on March 13. Last year Esperanza captures the league title, so Harbor's win is a good indication of their future prognosis. Honorable mention for best players go to Cathy Mockett, Philip Leider, Steve Kostlen and Jim Thrasher. Honorable mention for best supporting teammates goes to Mike Brewer, P. J. Agnew, Bob Mansfield, Jeff Coin and Tracy Marinovich. Golfer Philip Leider believes that this year's team will not only do well in the C.I.F. Play-offs, but also will do well in the C.I.F. individual play-offs.

BOYS' BASEBALL

BOYS' BASEBALL

The baseball team playing for Harbor High school this year has many talented players that give it the potential to do very well this year. In their first game this season the varsity team beat Huntington Beach High School 2-1. Hopefully this game was setting a precedent of things to come. On the varsity team Joe Holden is catcher, Jon Dishon is a pitcher, and Jerry Piaskoski is praised for his ability to play the positions of pitcher and second baseman. Coaching the varsity team is the bearded Wayne Heck. Mike Murphy is the varsity team is the bearded Wayne Heck. Mike Murphy is the JV's team coach, and Dwayne Myers the Frosh-Soph. With relatively strong JV and Frosh-Soph teams, baseball will be a sure hit.

Cross Country finished the season very successfully. Under head coach Jim Newkirk, Newport's Varsity squad made the CIF Finals and finished in fifth place overall.

They closed out their regular season with a 7-1 record. According to Coach Newkirk, "Senior Tom Walters was the key to the outstanding success of the team this year." Newkirk also added that "Tom is the most devoted runner possibly in the school history, running over 1200 miles during the summer, and definitely deserves his number one ranking on the team." Everyone did very well, though, and all the hard work definitely payed off.

SENIORS ENDED AN ERA

An era ended this year. The graduating varsity players who, in their undefeated sophomore year, won the league 10-0, started Mike Giddings coaching career at Newport Harbor. At that time, the class of 1984 was well aware that Giddings and his sophomore stars would continue to bring fame to Harbor, and the Sailors have not been disappointed. The team "somersaulted" their way to capture the Sea View League title despite injuries. Harbor kept the bell in a 7-3 win over long time rival Corona del Mar and entered CIF playoffs in tip top shape with solid favorites S. Brazas and F. Howser. First round CIF over Garden Grove, 20-0, was won with J. James running a 49 yard touchdown in the first quarter. In second round action against Valencia, Harbor lost 17-13 in the last minutes.

To mention all of the outstanding players Newport Harbor produced this season would be an impossible task since the whole team was talented.

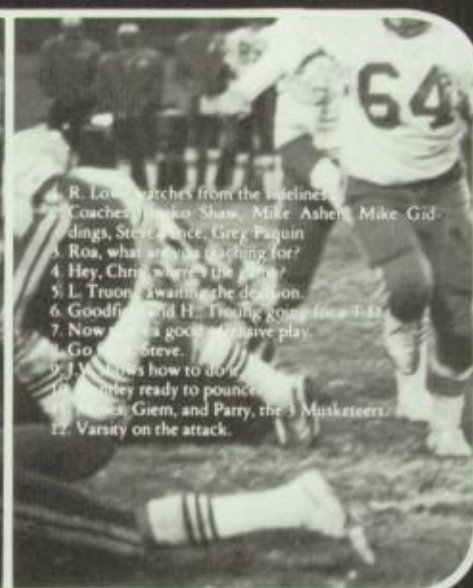

The defensive line, was led by seniors F. Roa and B. Kacura. Quarterback B. Goodfield, showed his skill on the field with R. Power on the receiving end. The field goal department was left to only one, K. Lohse, who did an outstanding job getting those extra points.

By the season's end, Harbor had eight first team All Sea View League choices, with tailback-punter-lineback S. Brazas and two way lineman B. Kacura who were unanimously voted the League's choices for back and lineman of the year. Brazas was the top scorer and second in rushing yardage in the county. Sailing to the top next year will be the juniors who did exceptionally well with M. Beech, H. Truong, A. Stoneman, S. Moses, R. Power, and the intercepting hands of J. Spangler.

These last two years with coach Mike Giddings have brought spirit and respect toward him as a coach. He taught the players the meaning of both winning and losing. He brought the players close together and showed them the real meaning of "Mean and Tough, Pride and Poise."

The sophomore football team did exceptionally well this year by beating their freshmen 2-6-1 record. Joe Johnson, MVP, Shane Foley, captain, and Jim Bierman, MIP, were honored.

The whole team did well this year. Notable players were B. Guptill, J. Johnson, S. Foley, A. Sheppard, and P. Howser. For the Corona game, many players colored their hair and some even went as far as to cut it almost all the way off.

The coaches should be praised; and, it is obvious, that next year's varsity should be outstanding. Having many different coaches at the beginning of the practice season must have been pretty strenuous on the players, but they proved their worth.

BOYS' SOCCER

Boys' Soccer

This year's Varsity team did very well. The team didn't make the CIF's, but it did beat Estancia, which did go to the finals. The coach was Mauricio Claire. Todd Russell presided as captain. Coach Claire said Steve Leffler was commendable for his goal keeping. Also on his list of outstanding were James McMahan (full back) and Dale Cross (mid-field). One of the more emotional games was the competition against Estancia in which we took a 2-1 victory. Our team triumphed over Corona Del Mar once, and the other game turned out to be a tie. The younger teams did very well this year and according to Coach Claire, "There is a good outlook for the near future." This year was rather unfortunate because a few of the players had injuries early in the season. Varsity overall won 3 and lost 8, placing 7th in the league. The JV team placed 3rd in the league, and Frosh/Soph placed a high second.

Boys' Swimming: Newport Harbor always does well in the boys' water sports. This is due to vigorous training and lots of talent. This year's Varsity team is being trained by Coach Stites. The JV Coach is Bill Barnett and the Frosh/Soph has Doug Maynard. On the Varsity team Andrew Lawson is top on the Breast stroke, Matt Tingler excels in the Butterfly, Jon Elliot expertly swims the so-free style. VARSITY TRACK

Leading Harbor's Track Team, in the spirit of Newport Harbor, is senior Jo Jo Dubesa. Jo Jo is a mid distance sprinter, who runs the 220, 440, 880, hurdles, and relays. In support, senior Steve Brazas, last year's MVP, does shot, discus, and runs the 110 hurdles, and senior Tom Walters, "a serious distance runner," runs the 2 mile and 1 mile. Other team-members include senior Rob Giem, a high jumper, Jeff Bradbury, and Sean Smith, another distance runner, who runs the mile and 2 mile runs.

The rest of the varsity team is comprised of juniors Tod Spooner, a relay runner, Sean Combs, who runs the 1 and 2 mile runs, and Jeff Harris, Harbor's superior high jumper.

Harbor's Track team is coached by Mr. Eric Tweit, Head Coach, and Bob Vansicle, girls' coach. Harbor's specialty coaches include Hank Cochrane, jumping coach, Gary Smith, distance Coach, Derek Turner, mid-distance coach, and Steve Pinsk, who coaches the shot put and discus throw.

The remainder of the frosh/soph team and J.V. teams were composed of sophomores Will Fisher, a varsity high and long jumper, Wes Kruger, a high jumper, Peter Howser, a relay sprinter, Eric Kloster, a distance runner who runs the mile and two miles runs, varsity discus thrower Seth Kaplan and shot and discus thrower Joe Corbo.

TRACK

The 1984 track team had a very successful season. Topping off boys' track was JoJo Dubesa and Frits Howser. The girls had Buffy Rabbit and Maggie Hansen. Coach Twiet and Coach Vansickle directed these fine athletes to many victories. Throughout most of the 1984 season the Sailors went undefeated. All of Harbor's athletes displayed sportsmanship, talent, and courage. Which adds up to a winning team.

OUR #1 C.I.F. CHAMPS — WE'RE PROUD

The Newport Harbor Varsity Water Polo Team had a great season this year with the help of Coach Bill Barnett and the teams many great athletes. They proved that they were the best this year by winning a close game against Sunny Hills in the CIF Championships. The last year NH won CIF was 1980, but they were close in '81 and '82 with second place. It took 3 and 4 years of dedicated work and a strong goal to be the best and win the title of CIF #1 Champs, and NH is proud. CONGRATULATIONS NH POLO.

JUNIOR VARSITY WATER POLO

The J.V. Water Polo Team finished off the season very well. They won every game without any problem: Estancia, 2-18; Saddleback, 2-22; El Toro, 3-17; Corona Del Mar, 2-6; University, 5-6. The team also won the Jr. Olympics this summer in Notre Dame. Jeff Stites, the J.V. coach said that the team worked very well together and they have an excellent chance of winning CIF next year. GOOD JOB, J.V. POLO.

BOYS' WRESTLING

Under the expert coaching of Brick Bailey, Newport Harbor had a very strong wrestling team this year. To show for the efforts this year, we finally beat Corona Del Mar again for the first time in at least 4 years. The Varsity score in the Corona Del Mar match was 45-21, our victory, of course. Overall the wrestling team won 3 and lost 4 matches. Jason Buzzard as a freshman, won 2nd, Marty Doezie, and Vick Yoast captured two 3rd in the Sea View League. All three of these fine wrestlers competed in the CIF's. Jason Buzzard, the team captain, was named MVP. Vick received an award for most improved. Following the Varsity team's lead Jim Carr took a first in the League. Cass Spence won a second.

BOYS' TENNIS

This year's Varsity Tennis Team is coached by Charlie Bleiker who feels the team is very strong. In spite of the stiff competition in the Sea View League, Coach Bleiker does plan to go far in the CIF race. The top player this year is Rick Conkey; he is half of the top doubles team, with the other half being his partner Kent Greely. Price Kerfoot is the top singles player. Ola Ringstrom and Mike Abel are next in line. Gary Bird is the Junior Varsity coach and Mike Brunetti coaches the Frosh-Soph team.

The Newport Harbor Varsity Cross Country Team had a very good season this year. This was the first year that they won league. It is predicted that next year they'll do just as well, and possibly better, and there's a very good chance that they'll get first in CIF. This year they recovered 6th place in CIF. Junior Varsity did very well also. All of the girls worked very hard and their efforts were awarded.

The Field Hockey Team is one of the most spirited girls' athletics teams at NHHS. They also are very talented. This year the team had a very good season and went to CIF, winning in the first round against Azusa. The awards went to: Wendy McKay as MVP, Julie Boero — Most Improved, Lori Metz — Most Inspirational, and Tracy Fait and Tina Royce as captains. All of these girls including Brandi Whipple made 1st and 2nd team in "All League." With the help of Coach Sharon Pietrok and Assistant Coach Kitty Coots the team played very well and finished with a fun and victorious season.

GYMNASTS EXPECTED TO HAVE ONE OF THE BEST SEASONS EVER — The Gymnastics team this year has two new coaches: Lorin Jessen and Kevin Weaklim. All the girls have worked hard and improved very much since the beginning of the season, and have learned new tricks and routines. The whole team is expected to do outstanding this season. Varsity is expected to go to CIF and place second in League. Junior Varsity will, most probably, be undefeated, and has been first in League for the past four years. As a whole, the team is strong and their outlook for the gymnastic season is great. Coach Jessen says that the team is "easy to work with and a fun and talented group of kids."

GIRLS' SOCCER

Newport Harbor had a relatively good year in girls' soccer, placing fifth in the Sea View League. Coached by Micki Huntress, this diverse group of girls included MVP Megan Hall, cited for her dependability, freshmen Michelle Burns and Niccole Hampton, and goalie Cindy Jarvie, who played her first year of soccer. Harbor was also fortunate to have the talents of senior Kelley O'Hern, who saved a lot of goals, and Nancy Coyne and Kerri Specht, the team's highest scorers.

Sue Hartman coached the Junior Varsity team, with the help of Barbara Mayberry. Freshman Shannon O'Hern led the team, with the help of defensive play from Allyson Thomas and defensive play from Kirsten Otis, to a second place finish in the Sea View League.

The girls' soccer teams practiced every day during sixth period until 4:30, for a total of three hours, for three months.

VARSITY SOFTBALL

This year, Newport Harbor's Varsity Softball team was coached by George Spangler, this being his fourth year as Varsity team coach. "Competitive" was the key word in softball this year. Coach Spangler felt that the girls did an outstanding job and they were most definitely competitive. The team was lead by returning seniors Lisa Wayne, an all Sea-View league 3rd baseman, and Kelly O'Hern, the outstanding pitcher. Both of these girls gave the Varsity team the extra help it needed to turn out an excellent season.

Newport Harbor had a large group of excellent underclassmen on the team this year, two of which were transfer students from Arizona. Nina and Lisa Maciel, twin sisters from Arizona did a great job as catcher and pitcher. The girls had a great year as a result of hard work and dedicated team members.

The junior varsity tennis team had a great season this year. They remained undefeated until the end of the season. Double partners Jenni Whelan and Carla Santangelo led the team as some outstanding players. Jill Jordon was one of the strongest singles players. The team was excited and energetic this year since many of this year's players returned from previous years. They already had a team feeling and good rapport with the coach, Gary Byrd. They finished the season at an outstanding third, their hardest season ever.

This year's Varsity tennis team consisted of more underclassmen than seniors. There were three senior players: Hillary Niblo, Lisa Wayne, Kathy Grundhofer, three juniors: Amy McClellan, Diana Lee, and Erin Woodruff, one sophomore, Cory Cook, and four freshmen: Venessa Bunnell, Samantha Howard, Traci Rogers, and Leslie Ryan. Coached by Charles Bleiker, the team took fourth place in league competition and some surprising upsets were staged by the Newport Players. Evidently, the opportunity of participating in a team sport not only brings physical prowess, but also an intimate friendship with the others players. Lisa Wayne fondly referred to the youngest team members as "typical, screaming, complaining freshmen."

Girls' Varsity Volleyball led an outstanding and successful season. They were Sea-View League co-champions with Corona del Mar. The highlights of each season were the Corona/Harbor games. First Newport lost at Corona. Later in the season, bringing a large crowd to the Harbor gym, our team defeated CdM for the first time in six years. Harbor's team worked it's way to CIF quarter finals where they were finally defeated by Mira Costa, the CIF Champions.

Volleyball is the most competitive girls' sport. Dedication, training, and endurance are required of each member. Seniors, Julie Evans, Traci Millers, and Felicia Crossley were the strength, in Harbor's young team. Coach Mike Neece with the NH Girls' Volleyball Boosters worked to make the season very successful.

GIRLS' JUNIOR VARSITY VOLLEYBALL

The attitude of this year's junior varsity girls volleyball was full of outstanding spirit, excitement and good playing skills. They look very promising in becoming part of next year's Varsity team and going for the CIF title.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Harbor's Girls' Athletic Association is basically composed of freshmen and sophomore teams who compete with other highschools in various sports activities including volleyball, soccer, basketball, and softball. Jane Caldwell, Glo Grotta, and Ellen Caricoff instill their girls with enthusiasm and the thrill of competition.

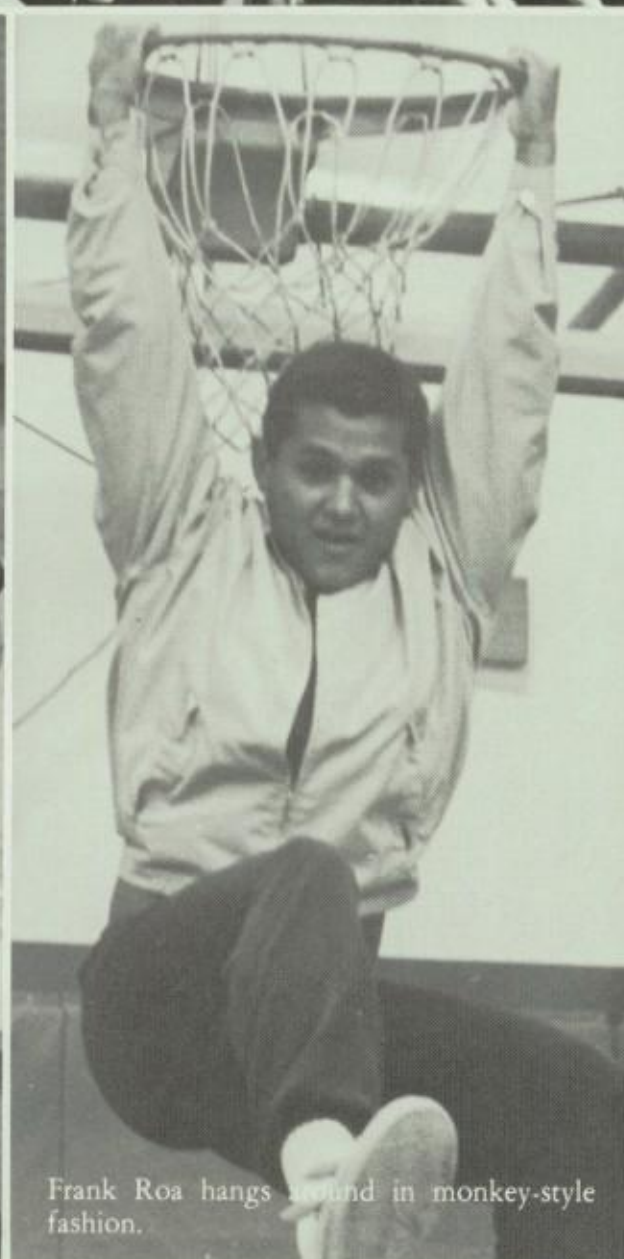

FILES:

Harbor's winning football team is a prime example of grace, finesse, and spirit.

Girls' tennis team casually relaxes during practice.

Frank Roa hangs around in monkey-style fashion.

Jo-Jo Debesa, Sean Combs, and Tom Walters make a thundering rush at the starting line.

Steve Brazas tucks the ball in and gains extra yardage.

Kelley O'hern gracefully kicks the ball.

At the Starting Line. Eric Twent, Bill Nice, Burt Donald, Jeff Pierose, and Steve Dye.

"Are you grasping that racket correctly?"

Coach Bill Barner and Assistant coach Jeff Stites prepare the H₂O POLO TEAM for the match.

NH acknowledges these ladies for their daily menus:

Edith Stolarer — manager
 Harriet Hanson — cook
 Grace Becker — snackbar manager
 Lynn Wenger — sandwiches
 Dorothy Bayliss — faculty dining
 Sean Bower — salad
 Joyce Riehi — bakers helper
 Dee Sumon — helper

Every school day the ladies who work in the cafeteria prepare a special meal that is enjoyed by many. The meals they make are made with love and served with a happy smile. Because of the dedication they give, we have great tasting food.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The publication of this book is the result of the efforts, creativity, concern and frustration of a large number of people. This is the time and place to give recognition and heartfelt thanks and appreciation to some of them. To my wife Sharon East-Vanderlan for her input, understanding and encouragement while I wrestled with some of the problems this last year. Many hurrahs and appreciation to Bob, Beverly and Mike Walker for all of their timely suggestions and their help with photography. It would have been very difficult to produce this book without the backing and support of our principal Tom Jacobson. The publisher's representative, Bob Stephenson has been very helpful and supportive of our efforts. The contributions of the photography class are noted and appreciated: David Blackman, Melinda Dalton, Kara Farmer, Teresa Foster, Sam Sofio, Megan Tingler, Scott Grimsgaard, Christopher James, Sherrilyn Kettley, Ellen Prior, Linda Zapata, Steven Abrams, Susan Bradbury, Julie Summers, Jenny Brown, Linda DaSilva, Carla Santangelo, Kate Dudley, Erik Gasner, Sean Smith, Steffani Unvert, Lindsay Alstrom, Lori Knudsen, Jim Day, Will Fisher, and please forgive me if I failed to list you.

Special thanks to Heidi Mason and Daniella Reed for their typing skills and Tracy Flores for her assistance in writing copy and typing.

And to the following people who contributed in some small but important way: Mark D. Harnetiaux, Bob Bielen, Robin Benjamin and Diane Barkdahl.

But mostly thanks to you, the student body, for buying this book of memories. May you appreciate and treasure it in the years to come and at your 25th class reunion take a moment to personally thank the year-book staff for this record of events.

Thank you all

Don Vanderlan, Advisor

Dear Kim -

Hi! I know we haven't had the best of times but that can always change!

I hope I can get to see you this summer especially at the beach go to 40th!

I can't wait we have to go to another concert!

Thompson Twins was a blast I can't believe what happened but oh well!

See ya at all the social stuff (UK) I'll be there.

Love Always -

Marnie

Your & Great friend.

Stay that way!

Keep in touch -

Dear Kimberly,

you're such a cute little buck-a-roo.

Now that you're putting on the yrs. it's not cute anymore it's beautiful. (haha) you are a really nice person and I hope we'll always be friends, it's too bad we're not neighbors anymore. Hope we can keep in touch and all that crap. I can't think of anything else to say.

TELL JENNY HI

LATER.

LOVE

KIMME -

Well it's been great being in Duffy's class you have to admit we got away w/ murder in his class. Raising our phadera (scom). Well it's summer and time to scam see ya at the beach or parties you will probably hear my laugh. (ha)

Kimie - H Sweetie!! How are ya well we finally made it!! We were gonna be little Freshmen anymore!! This year was a blast and I hope the next 3 years will be too!! This Summer is gonna be great. We have to get together with Scott, Jimmy John forsure. This Summer I wish we were as close to them as we used to be!! I miss that closeness alot!! Just think, we've been friends for 3 years now, and they've all been fun years if you ask me!! I know we've had our differences, but most of the time we've gotten along just great. I'm really glad I met you because you are a really heat person & fun to be around with!! I know we won't see each other over the whole Summer because we'll both be going on vacations, but I hope we don't lose our closeness with each other. You have always been there when I needed someone to talk to, and I know you always will be. Nobody will ever be able to replace you or take your place. I'll always love you so don't ever forget that. See ya later.

I love you always,
Jenny

Hi Kimbreal,

Sory ya being such a dick to you lately, is it ^{nice} knowing you this year, it was fun
Good luck on the rest of your
High School years.

Happy Spring

Kim -

Whats happenin? We've had some fun times
together hope to have more keep in touch cause I probably won't be here next year. Love
